Supreme Court May Order South's Schools Integrated

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court may be ready to scrap the "all deliberate speed" doctrine and order the prompt desegregation of public schools everywhere in the South.

This is the clear import of the court's announcement Thursday that it will hear arguments Oct. 23 on an appeal by the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund in a Mississippi school case.

The fund is challenging a delay granted 222 schools by the U.S. Court of Appeals in New Orleans last August. The Nixon administration had counseled delay and opposed the fund's request for an early Supreme Court decision.

The call for argument is the first major action by the high court under Warren E. Burger, the new chief justice, and must be viewed as a rebuff to the administration.

The court may end up with a ruling limited to the school situation in Mississippi. But it is more likely to follow the advice of Justice Hugo L. Black and determine whether the time has run out on compliance with the 1954 ruling that racially separate public schools are unconstitutional.

If the court insists on immediate desegregation throughout the South the ruling will rival in importance any of the last several years.

Burger's predecessor, Chief Justice Earl Warren, enunciated the "all deliberate speed" doctrine in 1955. The somewhat elastic phrase recognized that southern school districts needed time to overcome administrative difficulties but ordered them to move ahead with desegregation.

Since then, the court has regularly disapproved various approaches of southern school districts that appeared to accomplish only token desegregation.

The administration, through

Sol. Gen. Erwin N. Griswold, took the position in the Mississippi case that what the court had said in these interim decisions had the effect of burying the "all deliberate speed" concept.

But the court evidently disagreed. The justices underscored the urgent view they seem to take of the situation by not waiting until Monday, the first rulings day of the new term, to make their announcement.

Sheriff Cracks Burglary Ring

Sheriff Dwight Radcliff revealed today that his department had broken another burglary ring with the arrest of two youths.

Darrell E. Morgan, 19 years, of 138 1/2 W. Main St. and David Knece, 19 years, of 216 Harrison St. are in custody at the Pickaway County jail.

A 17-year-old is also involved but he is in the Mansfield Reformatory at the present time. Morgan and Knece will be charged with grand larceny by the Sheriff's Department.

While investigating the theft of a $75 air conditioner from Route 23 Auto Parts and a $75 transmission from Kenny Hannan Trucking Co., Sheriff Radcliff picked up Morgan for questioning.

WHILE talking to him the sheriff spotted a box of tools in the back of Morgan's car.

Morgan admitted the Route 23 Auto Parts and the Hannan Trucking theft. Upon further questioning by Sheriff Radcliff,

Police Seek 3 Fugitives Near Newark

NEWARK, Ohio (AP) — Law officers combed a woods west of here today searching for 3 fugitives after a shooting chase with two police departments.

The chase started when a policeman at Heath spotted a stolen car on Ohio 79, following reports of three area break-ins.

An officer tried to stop the car and the running gun fight followed. Police said a television set was thrown from the car during the chase.

Newark police joined in pursuit. The fleeing men abandoned the car in downtown Newark and two suspects were taken into custody near the car.

Three other men ran into the woods and sheriff's deputies from Licking, Fairfield, Perry and Muskingum counties joined the hunt.

Police gave no information about the men taken into custody.

Smokeless Engines Set For Planes

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Seven major airlines announced today that all new planes will contain smokeless engines that will not pollute the air.

The announcement came during a hearing on a suit by the New Jersey State Department of Health which charged the airlines with violation of the state's air pollution code.

The administration had advised the appeals court to reconsider an earlier move to have the Mississippi schools desegregated by the start of the current school year because time was too short in view of "administrative and logistical difficulties."

The appeals court then postponed the deadline for workable desegregation plans until Dec. 1 and the fund appealed to the Supreme Court.

4 Policemen Ask Separate Bribe Trials

Morgan confessed to the robbery at Circle Auto Parts and implicated Knece.

Tools valued at $3,000 were taken in the theft. About $300 worth of tools have been recovered so far.

Sheriff Radcliff contacted Patrolman Leonard Sines of the Circleville Police and turned the case over to them for further investigation.

4 Policemen Ask Separate Bribe Trials

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Four of eight Columbus policemen under federal indictment in gambling protection cases have filed motions in U.S. District Court asking for separate trials.

Attorneys filing motions and affidavits Thursday claimed fair trials for Police Lt. William Voorhis, Sgt. Frank Starkey and Patrolman Gary Roach and James Marcum were not possible otherwise.

The motions argue Marcum is charged with only one count of the three-count federal indictment charging the policemen and Frank Baldasaro with conspiracy to promote gambling operations. The policemen are also charged with taking payoffs from several local gamblers.

Attorneys said Marcum is charged with only one "overt" act. Voorhis and Roach are named in only two counts of the indictment and Starkey in one.

Similar motions are expected to be filed on behalf of the other defendants, Capt. Jerry G. Ryan Jr. and Robert Taylor, and Patrolman Robert Brodt and Robert Martin.

Trials of the policemen had been set originally for Nov. 12.

Cash Short In Department

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A state examiner's special audit released today by State Auditor Roger Cloud lists findings for recovery of $4,278 from two cashiers in Cleveland's treasury department.

The findings, covering shortages in petty cash accounts, include $2,693 against Patrick J. Livingston, and $2,185 against Theodore M. Parries.

Both cashiers were covered by blanket bonds of the National Grange Mutual Insurance Co.

Cloud said the examination was requested of Phillip M. Dearborn, Cleveland's director of finance, after inventories by the department's internal auditor, Michael DiCicco, indicated apparent shortages in the petty cash accounts.

Livingston issued a statement through his counsel denying any responsibility for the shortage. He said it occurred during sick leave.

Berger Affirms U.S. Pledge To South Viets

Will Help Saigon To Wage War On Its Own

SAIGON (AP) — Acting Ambassador Samuel D. Berger today renewed the U.S. pledge to assist the South Vietnamese government to wage the war on its own.

Speaking at the transfer of 80 U.S. river patrol boats to the Vietnamese navy, Berger said much progress has been made toward the American goal recently stated by President Nixon—"the opportunity for the South Vietnamese people to determine their own political future without outside interference."

"A larger, stronger and effective Vietnamese navy is being built week by week and month by month," Berger continued. "Your success in improving the ability of your sailors to fight, and your craftsmen to build, is attributed to your leaders. We shall continue to assist you in your great task."

Berger said the transfer gives the South Vietnamese navy responsibility for nearly half the river patrolling in the Allied war effort.

A U.S. spokesman said the Navy now has turned over 229 river craft to the Vietnamese since June 1968, and the remaining 321 are to be transferred in the next nine months.

The U.S. Air Force also announced that another South Vietnamese helicopter squadron has become fully operational with jet-powered helicopters. It is the fourth such squadron to join the war, and its pilots received their basic training in the United States.

The war, meanwhile, continued in the general lull that has persisted for more than a month.

U.S. troops fought only small clashes, and casualties on both sides were light.

SDS Protest In Chicago Fizzles Out

CHICAGO (AP) — Young radicals from the Students for a Democratic Society moved into a suburban seminary Thursday night after plans for a mass rock concert and threats of continued disturbances fizzled.

The Weathermen, most militant faction of the SDS, appeared to be nursing its wounds after violent street battles with police Wednesday night and Thursday morning.

With 2,000 National Guardsmen on alert in armories around the city, almost 1,000 persons assembled in Lincoln Park for the rock concert. Police swept through the park early in the evening and announced it was closed.

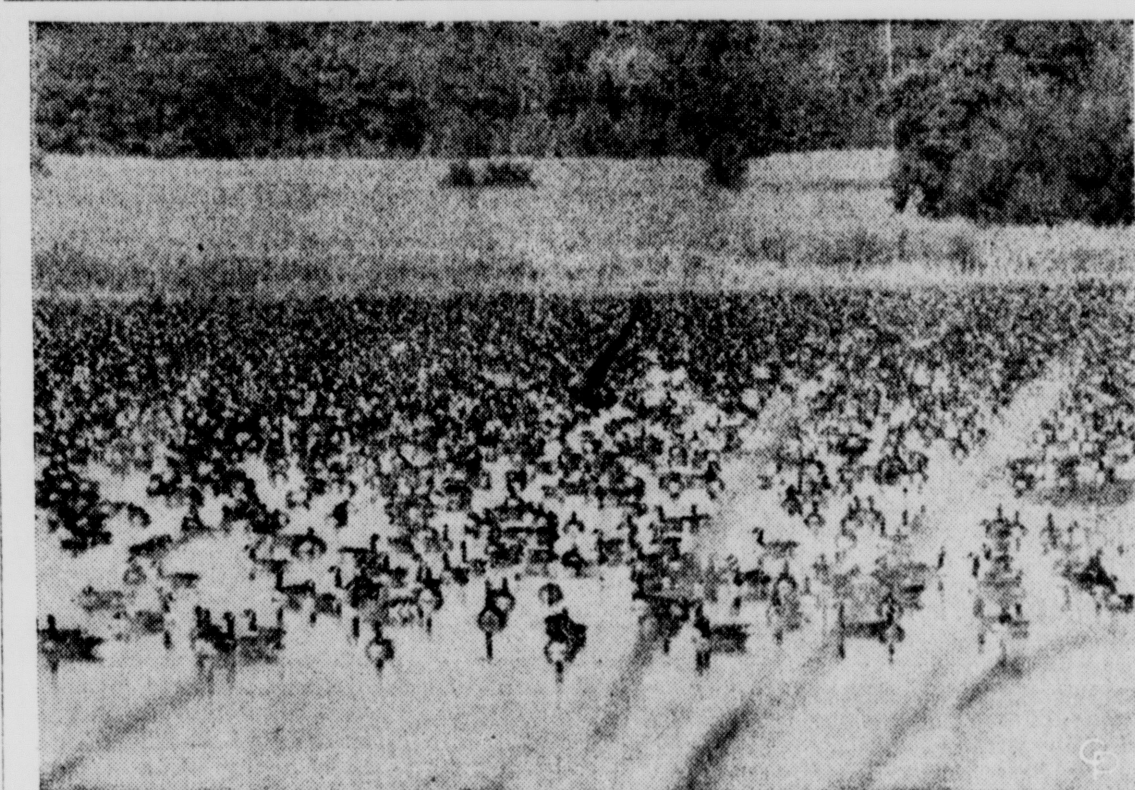

Then they withdrew to the edge of the park, and nearly everyone had gone by the regular closing hours of 11 p.m. There were no violent incidents and only a handful of arrests on disorderly conduct charges.

The SDS had said its four-day "national action" in Chicago would consist of the most "militant demonstrations in the history of the New Left." Spokesmen for the group predicted 5,000 to 15,000 persons would demonstrate in Chicago over the four days.

However, when the radicals took to the streets Wednesday night, smashing windows, windshields and swinging chains and clubs at police, the number of demonstrators was no more than 500.

Of the 1,000 persons in the park Thursday, most appeared to be curiosity-seekers and passers-by.

Vietnam War Moratorium Gains Widespread Support

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Public officials are joining the snowballing support for the Wednesday moratorium on work and studies to seek peace in Vietnam. Demonstrations are expected in every state.

Governors, congressmen and senators, city councilmen and mayors, state legislators and former government officials will join businessmen, teachers and most of all students in what organizers say will be the largest series of nationwide antiwar protests ever held.

War critics in Congress say they have enough support to keep the House of Representatives in all-night session Tuesday to support Moratorium Day, with the American flag flying over a lighted Capitol dome as symbolic backing for the protests.

Seventeen senators and 47 congressmen pledged to support the moratorium as long as it is "peaceful, lawful and nonviolent."

Rep. Benjamin S. Rosenthal, D-N.Y., said speakers had been lined up for an all-night session and predicted, "I think this is going to be the largest citizen participation of its kind in the history of this country."

President Nixon said last week the moratorium would not affect his plans. Vice President Spiro T. Agnew said Thursday, "Certainly citizens have a right to protest this war. But they have picked the wrong target."

Agnew told a Republican fund-raising dinner in Dallas, Tex., that the moratorium is "ironic and absurd." He suggested that protests should be directed at the North Vietnamese for their refusal to accept American terms for peace at the Paris peace conference.

Agnew canceled a campaign appearance in New Jersey next Wednesday at the request of Republican gubernatorial candidate William T. Cahill, who said he thought Agnew would be the target of antiwar demonstrators.

Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston urged all churches to conduct special services Wednesday and the Archdiocese of Detroit called for a day of fasting and prayer.

The executive board of the Central Council of American Rabbis, representing 1,100 Reform rabbis, endorsed the protest and urged Nixon to head the protesters.

Some universities and colleges canceled classes, while others refused to stop normal activities. Many schools followed the example of the nation's largest public school system, in New York City, where 1.1 million pupils and their teachers were told they might skip classes to protest.

The New York school board urged all schools to hold discussions on the war. Baltimore Schools Supt. Thomas D. Sheldon advised school principals that such discussions would be "appropriate" if they were "impartial and objective."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The battle over Clement F. Haynsworth's nomination to the Supreme Court shifted today from committee chambers to the Senate cloakroom where the outcome appeared to rest with some two dozen wavering senators.

In the aftermath of Judiciary Committee approval of the nomination Thursday opponents appeared to have the edge on the floor.

A survey by the Associated Press, combined with positions obtained from Senate sources, showed at least 46 votes against the nomination, 33 for it and 21 undecided.

It was clear, however, the situation could change dramatically for a number of reasons before the nomination comes to the floor, probably not for two weeks.

For one, the American Bar Association leadership decided Thursday to meet sometime in the next few days to review its position on Haynsworth, for the past 12 years a member of the

Conservatives Split On Racial Policies

BRIGHTON, England (AP) — Britain's Conservatives split today over immigration and race policies with a big minority backing Enoch Powell's call for a total ban on nonwhite entrants.

The annual convention of the opposition party voted 1,349 to 954 in favor of the line followed by Edward Heath and his fellow-leaders on these issues.

Nevertheless, Kennedy's speech to the Economic Club of Chicago was a major departure from the mild approach he has taken before in the eight-plus months he has held office.

The speech spelled out in more detail what President Nixon and his chief economist, Paul W. McCracken, have said before: Those who gamble that inflation will continue will be the final losers.

Kennedy told the club's businessmen and bankers the administration had worked hard to chill four years of inflation and was beginning to get the results

'Reaction Plan' Being Followed By U.S. Units

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials expect new formal instructions given American commanders in Vietnam will result in much less chasing of enemy troops.

Secretary of defense Melvin R. Laird said Thursday U.S. commanders have been told to follow new tactics of "protective reaction" and to emphasize Vietnamization of the war.

Officials said the instructions leave U.S. commanders free to strike out at enemy forces that threaten their troops. And the orders do not tell American commanders to avoid contact with the enemy, nor to fire only if fired on.

But, the officials said, the practical effect should mean less pursuit of the enemy.

Instead, U.S. field commanders will be expected to devote much of their effort to shaping up the South Vietnamese forces to replace American troops.

These orders, making it unmistakably clear that "Vietnamization" of the war has the highest priority, replace three-year-old formal instructions asserting the primary objective to be military victory.

The formal instructions really reflect what top U.S. commanders already knew to be the Nixon administration's goal in Vietnam. Gen. Creighton Abrams, U.S. commander in Vietnam, got the word from the President and Laird early in the new administration.

Laird's news conference Thursday was part of a Nixon administration campaign to sell the American people on its Vietnamization approach. At the same time, the administration is trying to counter rising pressures in Congress and on campus for faster withdrawals from Vietnam.

The Pentagon is expected to continue the campaign next week by calling a news conference for Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Wheeler, who has just returned from a trip to Vietnam, rarely meets with newsmen at the Pentagon.

Train Crash Fatal To 2 In Belgium

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — A passenger express from Paris rammed the rear of a freight train in a fog 40 miles southeast of Brussels today and the engine plunged down an embankment into several trackside houses.

The Belgian Railroad said two men were killed and five persons were injured.

The train was bound for Hanover in West Germany, with intervening stops.

The accident occurred near the hamlet of Sclaigneaux between Namur and Huy in the Meuse Valley.

A woman there reported: "The engine hit a house and fell while one of the passenger coaches caught fire. The coach burned completely."

The train No. 181, left Paris at 7:50 a.m., and had gone through Namur at about 11:35 a.m., shortly before the accident. It was due in Cologne three hours later.

The train came out of a tunnel and crashed into the freight train on the same track, officials said.

The express engine fell off the track and hit the brick houses.

Nixon To Meet Viet Advisers

Plan Tuesday Consultations

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has ordered his two chief peace negotiators back from Paris for consultations on the eve of next Wednesday's nationwide anti-Vietnam war demonstrations.

Nixon is embarking on a new review of Vietnam policy with a meeting Monday or Tuesday with Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and his deputy in Paris, Phillip Habib.

The President also has scheduled a Saturday talk with Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird, Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, who returned recently from an inspection tour of the war zone, and the rest of the joint chiefs.

Besides closely coinciding with Wednesday's "Moratorium Day" protests against the war, the latest Nixon moves came as U.S. authorities in Saigon announced American battle deaths last week totaled 64—the lowest in nearly three years.

White House sources said the administration has made no conclusive assessment as to whether the recent downward trend in casualties is intended by North Vietnam and the Viet Cong as a peace signal.

But they held by their previously stated position that the level of American casualties is a direct reflection of enemy activity.

The State Department Wednesday said the battlefield lull presented an "element of uncertainty" concerning enemy intentions.

Some universities and colleges canceled classes, while others refused to stop normal activities. Many schools followed the example of the nation's largest public school system, in New York City, where 1.1 million pupils and their teachers were told they might skip classes to protest.

The New York school board urged all schools to hold discussions on the war. Baltimore Schools Supt. Thomas D. Sheldon advised school principals that such discussions would be "appropriate" if they were "impartial and objective."

The ABA endorsed the nomination last month during Senate hearings. A change in position could have significant impact. Floor debate also cannot begin until the Judiciary Committee files majority and minority reports. Some senators said they would wait for these before making up their minds.

An example of the fluid nature of the situation was Maryland Republican Charles McC. Mathias.

A member of the Judiciary Committee, Mathias announced Thursday when the committee climaxed a two-hour closed meeting by voting 10 to 6 to report the nomination to the floor.

Then in late afternoon he sent a letter to Judiciary Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., saying he wanted to be recorded against committee approval of the nomination.

"There are grave doubts remaining on the record," Mathias said.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration, and particularly Secretary of the Treasury David M. Kennedy, appears more and more willing to put pressure on the groups it thinks are crimping its fight against inflation.

But "it's far from coercion," one Treasury Department official said Thursday after Kennedy issued a strong appeal, coupled with a warning, to heavy-buying businessmen, demanding unions and spendthrift consumers.

Central Council of American Rabbis, representing 1,100 Reform rabbis, endorsed the protest and urged Nixon to head the protesters.

Nevertheless, Kennedy's speech to the Economic Club of Chicago was a major departure from the mild approach he has taken before in the eight-plus months he has held office.

The speech spelled out in more detail what President Nixon and his chief economist, Paul W. McCracken, have said before: Those who gamble that inflation will continue will be the final losers.

'Reaction Plan' Being Followed By U.S. Units

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials expect new formal instructions given American commanders in Vietnam will result in much less chasing of enemy troops.

Secretary of defense Melvin R. Laird said Thursday U.S. commanders have been told to follow new tactics of "protective reaction" and to emphasize Vietnamization of the war.

Officials said the instructions leave U.S. commanders free to strike out at enemy forces that threaten their troops. And the orders do not tell American commanders to avoid contact with the enemy, nor to fire only if fired on.

But, the officials said, the practical effect should mean less pursuit of the enemy.

Instead, U.S. field commanders will be expected to devote much of their effort to shaping up the South Vietnamese forces to replace American troops.

These orders, making it unmistakably clear that "Vietnamization" of the war has the highest priority, replace three-year-old formal instructions asserting the primary objective to be military victory.

The formal instructions really reflect what top U.S. commanders already knew to be the Nixon administration's goal in Vietnam. Gen. Creighton Abrams, U.S. commander in Vietnam, got the word from the President and Laird early in the new administration.

Laird's news conference Thursday was part of a Nixon administration campaign to sell the American people on its Vietnamization approach. At the same time, the administration is trying to counter rising pressures in Congress and on campus for faster withdrawals from Vietnam.

The Pentagon is expected to continue the campaign next week by calling a news conference for Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, who has just returned from a trip to Vietnam, rarely meets with newsmen at the Pentagon.

Nixon To Meet Viet Advisers

Plan Tuesday Consultations

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has ordered his two chief peace negotiators back from Paris for consultations on the eve of next Wednesday's nationwide anti-Vietnam war demonstrations.

Nixon is embarking on a new review of Vietnam policy with a meeting Monday or Tuesday with Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and his deputy in Paris, Phillip Habib.

The President also has scheduled a Saturday talk with Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird, Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, who returned recently from an inspection tour of the war zone, and the rest of the joint chiefs.

Besides closely coinciding with Wednesday's "Moratorium Day" protests against the war, the latest Nixon moves came as U. S. authorities in Saigon announced American battle deaths last week totaled 64—the lowest in nearly three years.

White House sources said the administration has made no conclusive assessment as to whether the recent downward trend in casualties is intended by North Vietnam and the Viet Cong as a peace signal.

But they held by their previously stated position that the level of American casualties is a direct reflection of enemy activity.

The State Department Wednesday said the battlefield lull presented an "element of uncertainty" concerning enemy intentions.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Mafia-like syndicate of sergeants demanded girls as well as money in kickbacks for booking entertainers, buying food and liquor for the Army night clubs they ran for troops in Vietnam, senators have been told.

A curvaceous Australian dancer who was a show business booking agent told a Senate subcommittee Thursday virtually all custodians of Army club systems in Vietnam demanded a percentage from those selling supplies to the clubs.

In a war where most soldiers count the days until they can go home, these sergeants—confident of making at least $150,000 a year in graft—extended their tours as long as possible, she said.

The witness, June I. Skewes, 34, of Sydney, Australia, her long, ash-blond hair tied back with a tangerine-colored ribbon, told the Senate's rackets subcommittee she was blacklisted and squeezed out of business after word leaked she had complained to military authorities.

The sergeants who ran the clubs, which do hundreds of millions of dollars in business a year, were "for sale to the highest bidder," said Miss Skewes, who is known professionally as June Collins.

She said the bids came in the form of rolls of American money, villas in Saigon, liquor, long and expensive trips, free entertainment and women.

"In my experience in Vietnam, going back to 1967, I do not know of a single (Army) club custodian who does not receive kickbacks," Miss Skewes said.

"I's also as filthy a racket as I've ever heard of," she told a hearing room in which all seats were filled and spectators stood in every vacant space. "The profits come from the pockets of American G.I.s," she said.

"It becomes obvious that those who are sacrificing and dying are paying a very deep penalty," said Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn. "For generally this dirty little war seems to be conducted in an atmosphere of corruption."

Blizzard Of Viet-Inspired Resolutions Hits Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's call for a united front behind the war effort is becoming a lonesome moan in a blizzard of Vietnam-inspired resolutions in Congress.

There were enough resolutions around by today to move Rep. Lawrence G. Williams, R-Pa., to suggest a resolution "to end, at least for the moment, the flow of resolutions on what to do about Vietnam."

Nixon had urged the united front in order to impress the new Hanoi regime with the nation's determination to achieve an honorable end to the conflict. But instead of tailing off, the resolutions and dissent increased, fueled by such things as Senate GOP Leader Hugh Scott's suggestion that everyone backing the President turn on his car lights Oct. 15, the day of nationwide rallies, demonstrations and doorbell-ringing against the war.

Also for the eve of the "moratorium" two House members, Reps. Benjamin Rosenthal, New York and Andrews Jacobs, Indiana, both Democrats, are trying for extended war debate in their chamber throughout the night.

Here is a glance at a disunited front:

—Fourteen representatives and three senators introduced a joint resolution Thursday calling for an immediate withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam.

—Rep. John B. Anderson, R-Ill., chairman of the House GOP Conference has ordered a three-man committee to draw a resolution supporting Nixon entirely and have it ready by Oct. 15.

—Jacobs has joined Allard Lowenstein D-N.Y., Don Edwards, D-Calif., and Lester Wolff, D-N.Y., as a resolution that would create a Joint Committee on Oversight in Vietnam.

—Nothing came of a proposed GOP conference resolution to disassociate House Republicans from three of their number who joined 45 Democratic representatives and 17 senators in a letter of support to the Oct. 15 steering committee Thursday.

—Rep. Paul Findley, R-Ill., has 106 cosponsors for his resolution to support the President on his conduct of the war and peace effort to date.

—Reps. Donald W. Reagle of Michigan and Paul N. McCloskey of California, both Republicans, have in the hopper a resolution which would terminate the Tonkin Gulf Resolution on Dec. 30, 1970.

—A resolution by Sens. Thomas F. Eagleton, D-Mo., and Harold E. Hughes, D-Iowa, called the "shape up or we ship out resolution," calls for U.S. withdrawal in 60 days if the Vietnamese government does not introduce reforms and broadly based representation in government.

—Sens. Frank Church, D-Idaho, and Mark Hatfield, R-Ore., have their resolution which urges a speedup of U.S. withdrawal, but on no timetable.

—A pioneer in the field is Sen. Charles E. Goodell who does not have a resolution, but has introduced an amendment to a foreign assistance bill which calls for U.S. withdrawal or disengagement by Dec. 1, 1970.

Opponents Of Arms Control Bill Win Ammo Sales Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — Opponents of stringent limits on weapons use, with a crushing Senate victory behind them, have made an apparently successful move to bypass a major House obstacle and rip some key provisions from the 1968 Gun Control Act.

Concentrated opposition from Northeast senators failed Thursday to halt the effort, sponsored by Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, to eliminate registration provisions for purchasers of shotgun and rifle ammunition. The Utah Republican temporarily abandoned a bid to also revoke controls on .22 caliber ammunition.

Bennett's legislation, supported by the Nixon administration, goes to the House—which last year voted against including shotgun, rifle or .22 caliber ammunition in the bill.

Through Bennett's parliamentary maneuvering, the legislation will go through the congressional tax and finance committee pipeline—rather than the normal judiciary arrangement.

Rep. Emanuel E. Celler, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Judiciary Committee and a long-time advocate of gun registration, told a reporter Thursday he sees nothing he could do to block the Bennett proposal.

In the House, the Senate bill now falls under the jurisdiction of the Ways and Means Committee headed by Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., who voted against the 1968 Gun Control Act.

Sen. Thomas Dodd, D-Conn., whose judiciary subcommittee also was bypassed when Bennett reintroduced the bill in July to get around Celler, headed the opposition to Bennett's proposal Thursday.

A 63-19 vote turned back Dodd's attempt to table, meaning kill, the ammunition provision—which came up in the form of an amendment to a non-controversial bill extending the interest equalization tax which expired Sept. 30. Then, the amendment passed, 65-16.

This vote contrasted sharply with the Senate's 41-36 decision last year, in the wake of the assassinations of Martin Luther King Jr. and Sen. Robert F.

Kennedy, to include coverage of shotgun, rifle and .22 caliber ammunition in the bill.

Bennett contended then-President Lyndon B. Johnson's Treasury Department, in administering the law, went beyond congressional intent by requiring ammunition buyers to provide their physical descriptions and the caliber and quantity of the ammunition purchased.

Shotgun, rifle and .22 caliber rifle account for 90 per cent of the ammunition sold in the United States.

Young Couple Arrested For Child Abuse

NORTH MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A young couple was arrested on child abuse charges today after police said they found three battered children including a 2-year-old boy whose nose was broken and the bone protruding.

North Miami Beach Police Lt. Shirley Withrow said, "This is the same couple who had a 7-month-old baby girl die about a week ago."

He identified the couple as Michael Campbell, 22, and Mary Violet Campbell, 23. Their address was listed as the Midget Mansion Motel.

Withrow said the Campbells were charged with torturing or unlawfully punishing a child. There were no charges in the infant's death. No bond was set.

Two-year-old Travis had both eyes blacked and a broken nose, the officer said. "It was a compound fracture and a piece of the bone was sticking out," he said.

The oldest girl, Chris, 7, had a battered face, he said. "The entire front of her dress was full of blood."

The third child, Ginger, 6, had bruises, said Withrow. "All of them had mosquito bites and some of the bites were infected," said Withrow. "They said they had gotten repeated beatings with open hand, fist and a belt."

He said the couple's 7-month-old baby, Kalen, died last week from "massive head injuries." He said investigation into the death is continuing.

Withrow said Campbell reported the baby had suffered the injuries in a fall.

Long Predicts Bigger Tax Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Russell B. Long, chairman of the powerful Finance Committee, predicts the Senate will vote even bigger relief for the U.S. taxpayer than provided in a House measure already criticized by President Nixon as too costly.

Nixon has indicated he might veto a tax reform bill that wasn't trimmed below what the House provided and any citizen reaction would be intensified if the Senate approved an even better break for individual wage earners.

Long's forecast was backed up somewhat by the senior Republican on the committee, Sen. John J. Williams of Delaware, who told a reporter he would not be surprised if the Senate goes beyond the House measure.

Several senators of both parties are urging the committee to increase the present $600 personal income tax exemption by at least $100. A few have asked that it be raised to $1,000 or $1,200.

It was learned this issue came up tentatively Thursday at the committee's first closed-door meeting on the House-passed bill.

Treasury officials who were present strongly resisted any such move. They said a $100 hike in exemptions would cost more than $3 billion in revenue, a $400 increase $12 billion, and a $600 increase more than $17 billion.

The House bill would give individuals $9.2 billion of relief and offset this with $5.8 billion of new revenue from various reform provisions.

Nixon said this $2.4 billion revenue loss was too great. He proposed a series of changes which would reduce the deficit to $1.3 billion.

Long said he knew the proposed tax relief "may create some revenue problems for the government" and require a cut in federal spending of $3 to $5 billion. But, he said, the Republicans had indicated they could reduce government outlays steadily.

Riding Mower Theft Solved By Deputy Sheriff

Three persons were arrested in Columbus at 5 a.m. today by Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff Billy Dountz and charged with the theft of a riding mower valued at $399 from Fred Horn.

John Hashman, 19, Route 2, Orient, David Lee Russell, 28, Columbus and a 17-year-old boy were apprehended. The sheriff's department is still seeking a fourth person involved.

The mower was taken from Horn's residence on Route 762 Wednesday night. Hashman and Russell have been bound over to the Pickaway County Grand Jury under $2,000 each. Both appeared in Municipal Court at 10 a.m. today and entered pleas of guilty.

Teachers Plan Visitation Day

In place of their annual workshop, teachers in county schools have elected to participate in a visitation day.

Under the visitation plan, instructors will make arrangements with and travel to the school of their choice on Oct. 17, observing and exchanging ideas. County superintendent George McDowell feels this project could be very beneficial to the school, enlarging their scope.

The workshop originally held, consisted of an inspirational speaker, then dividing into groups to work with special consultants according to the grade level. This method enables teachers in the districts to discuss and solve problems common to their areas.

McDowell feels both systems are beneficial to education. Teachers will be asked to evaluate the visitation program, stating their preference for this program or the county workshop. Results of the poll will determine whether the project will be continued in the future.

ACLU Criticizes Athens Officials In Felony Case

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Athens, Ohio, officials were criticized by the American Civil Liberties Union Thursday for prosecuting a former Ohio University coed on a libel charge.

"The use of a felony charge of criminal libel to punish the colorful and even distasteful criticism of local officials is patently offensive to freedom of the press and smacks of the type of collusive deprivations which have regularly been struck down by the courts," the ACLU said.

Barbara S. Troy was arrested for distributing a leaflet which Athens authorities claim libeled several officials. Her case is pending in court and she is free on her own recognizance.

—Rep. John B. Anderson, R-Ill., chairman of the House GOP Conference has ordered a three-man committee to draw a resolution supporting Nixon entirely and have it ready by Oct. 15.

—Jacobs has joined Allard Lowenstein D-N.Y., Don Edwards, D-Calif., and Lester Wolff, D-N.Y., as a resolution that would create a Joint Committee on Oversight in Vietnam.

—Nothing came of a proposed GOP conference resolution to disassociate House Republicans from three of their number who joined 45 Democratic representatives and 17 senators in a letter of support to the Oct. 15 steering committee Thursday.

—Rep. Paul Findley, R-Ill., has 106 cosponsors for his resolution to support the President on his conduct of the war and peace effort to date.

—Reps. Donald W. Reigle of Michigan and Paul N. McCloskey of California, both Republicans, have in the hopper a resolution which would terminate the Tonkin Gulf Resolution on Dec. 30, 1970.

—A resolution by Sens. Thomas F. Eagleton, D-Mo., and Harold E. Hughes, D-Iowa, called the "shape up or we ship out resolution," calls for U.S. withdrawal in 60 days if the Vietnamese government does not introduce reforms and broadly based representation in government.

—Sens. Frank Church, D-Idaho, and Mark Hatfield, R-Ore., have their resolution which urges a speedup of U.S. withdrawal, but on no timetable.

—A pioneer in the field is Sen. Charles E. Goodell who does not have a resolution, but has introduced an amendment to a foreign assistance bill which calls for U.S. withdrawal or disengagement by Dec. 1, 1970.

RECALL PAST HOMECOMINGS — Linda Crow, Athens graduate student, and Dave Wingert, McKeesport, Pa., junior, relax in a 1929 car and clothes as they prepare to host WOUB-TV's live telecast of Ohio University's 1969 Homecoming Weekend parade from Athens Saturday. Mike Lorentz, Circleville senior, is producer-director of the show which begins at 9:30 a.m. on Channel 20 and 21 other TV cable outlets in Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky. The theme of the telecast is "We've Come a Long Way, Baby" and highlights of previous Ohio Homecoming parades will be featured.

Opponents Of Arms Control Bill Win Ammo Sales Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — Opponents of stringent limits on weapons use, with a crushing Senate victory behind them, have made an apparently successful move to bypass a major House obstacle and rip some key provisions from the 1968 Gun Control Act.

Concentrated opposition from Northeast senators failed Thursday to halt the effort, sponsored by Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, to eliminate registration provisions for purchasers of shotgun and rifle ammunition.

The Utah Republican temporarily abandoned a bid to also revoke controls on .22 caliber ammunition. Bennett's legislation, supported by the Nixon administration, goes to the House—which last year voted against including shotgun, rifle or .22 caliber ammunition in the bill.

Through Bennett's parliamentary maneuvering, the legislation will go through the congressional tax and finance committee pipeline—rather than the normal judiciary arrangement. Rep. Emanuel E. Celler, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Judiciary Committee and a long-time advocate of gun registration, told a reporter Thursday he sees nothing he could do to block the Bennett proposal.

In the House, the Senate bill now falls under the jurisdiction of the Ways and Means Committee headed by Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., who voted against the 1968 Gun Control Act.

Sen. Thomas Dodd, D-Conn., whose judiciary subcommittee also was bypassed when Bennett reintroduced the bill in July to get around Celler, headed the opposition to Bennett's proposal Thursday.

A 65-19 vote turned back Dodd's attempt to table, meaning kill, the ammunition provision—which came up in the form of an amendment to a non-controversial bill extending the interest equalization tax which expired Sept. 30. Then, the amendment passed, 65-16.

This vote contrasted sharply with the Senate's 41-36 decision last year, in the wake of the assassinations of Martin Luther King Jr. and Sen. Robert F.

Kennedy, to include coverage of shotgun, rifle and .22 caliber ammunition in the bill.

Bennett contended then-President Lyndon B. Johnson's Treasury Department, in administering the law, went beyond congressional intent by requiring ammunition buyers to provide their physical descriptions and the caliber and quantity of the ammunition purchased.

Shotgun, rifle and .22 caliber rifle account for 90 per cent of the ammunition sold in the United States.

Young Couple Arrested For Child Abuse

NORTH MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A young couple was arrested on child abuse charges today after police said they found three battered children including a 2-year-old boy whose nose was broken and the bone protruding.

North Miami Beach Police Lt. Shirley Withrow said, "This is the same couple who had a 7-month-old baby girl die about a week ago."

He identified the couple as Michael Campbell, 22, and Mary Violet Campbell, 23. Their address was listed as the Midget Mansion Motel.

Without said the Campbells were charged with torturing or unlawfully punishing a child. There were no charges in the infant's death. No bond was set.

Two-year-old Travis had both eyes blacked and a broken nose, the officer said. "It was a compound fracture and a piece of the bone was sticking out," he said.

The oldest girl, Chris, 7, had a battered face, he said. "The entire front of her dress was full of blood."

The third child, Ginger, 6, had bruises, said Withrow. "All of them had mosquito bites and some of the bites were infected," said Withrow. "They said they had gotten repeated beatings with open hand, fist and a belt."

He said the couple's 7-month-old baby, Kalen, died last week from "massive head injuries." He said investigation into the death is continuing. Withrow said Campbell reported the baby had suffered the injuries in a fall.

Long Predicts Bigger Tax Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Russell B. Long, chairman of the powerful Finance Committee, predicts the Senate will vote even bigger relief for the U.S. taxpayer than provided in a House measure already criticized by President Nixon as too costly.

Nixon has indicated he might veto a tax reform bill that wasn't trimmed below what the House provided and any citizen reaction would be intensified if the Senate approved an even better break for individual wage earners.

Long's forecast was backed up somewhat by the senior Republican on the committee, Sen. John J. Williams of Delaware, who told a reporter he would not be surprised if the Senate goes beyond the House measure.

Several senators of both parties are urging the committee to increase the present $600 personal income tax exemption by at least $100. A few have asked that it be raised to $1,000 or $1,200.

It was learned this issue came up tentatively Thursday at the committee's first closed-door meeting on the House-passed bill.

Treasury officials who were present strongly resisted any such move. They said a $100 hike in exemptions would cost more than $3 billion in revenue, a $400 increase $12 billion, and a $600 increase more than $17 billion.

The House bill would give individuals $9.2 billion of relief and offset this with $5.8 billion of new revenue from various reform provisions.

Nixon said this $2.4 billion revenue loss was too great. He proposed a series of changes which would reduce the deficit to $1.3 billion.

Long said he knew the proposed tax relief "may create some revenue problems for the government" and require a cut in federal spending of $3 to $5 billion. But, he said, the Republicans had indicated they could reduce government outlays steadily.

Teachers Plan Visitation Day

In place of their annual workshop, teachers in county schools have elected to participate in a visitation day.

Under the visitation plan, instructors will make arrangements with and travel to the school of their choice on Oct. 17, observing and exchanging ideas. County superintendent George McDowell feels this project could be very beneficial to the school, enlarging their scope.

The workshop originally held, consisted of an inspirational speaker, then dividing into groups to work with special consultants according to the grade level. This method enables teachers in the districts to discuss and solve problems common to their areas.

McDowell feels both systems are beneficial to education. Teachers will be asked to evaluate the visitation program, stating their preference for this program or the county workshop. Results of the poll will determine whether the project will be continued in the future.

ACLU Criticizes Athens Officials In Felony Case

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Athens, Ohio, officials were criticized by the American Civil Liberties Union Thursday for prosecuting a former Ohio University coed on a libel charge.

"The use of a felony charge of criminal libel to punish the colorful and even distasteful criticism of local officials is patently offensive to freedom of the press and smacks of the type of collusive deprivations which have regularly been struck down by the courts," the ACLU said.

Barbara S. Troy was arrested for distributing a leaflet which Athens authorities claim libeled several officials. Her case is pending in court and she is free on her own recognizance.

Indispensable Boy

Saturday will be National Newspaperboy Day — and across the country carrier boys will be saluted for the part they play in getting the news to the public.

In every newspaper office the newspaperboy is recognized as an important link between the people who make the newspaper and those who read it. Not important — indispensable.

If the paper doesn't get to the subscriber, in good order and on time, it fails to develop its full potential.

The newspaperboy is an independent business man. He buys at wholesale and sells at retail. He learns that he must collect his accounts if he is to come out ahead of the game. He also learns that to keep his customers he must keep them satisfied.

As for the financial rewards, they are substantial if not fabulous. Paper routes have put many boys on the road to leadership.

We are sure that many of the boys we salute today will be leaders tomorrow. And meanwhile we're proud to have them working with us in a worthwhile job.

NEW YORK (AP) — Man can make machines that remember, but no machine gets the joy out of remembering that man does himself.

It is his memories, indeed, that largely make a man. They are food to his mind, fuel to his spirit. They resurrect his past and are his chief sanctuary from muffled oblivion.

For no yesterday is dead so long as it is remembered.

Your own album of memories is pretty extensive if you can look back and remember when

A boy could buy enough candy with a nickel to make himself sick.

Auto horns had rubber bulbs you squeezed by hand.

Grant's Tomb and the Woolworth Building, the world's tallest skyscraper, were Manhattan's chief tourist sights.

Everybody was sure there was an opium den behind every beaded curtain in Chinatown.

No matter what ailed a woman her first step toward a cure was to climb into bed with a hot water bottle.

A man was suspected of secret drinking if he habitually chewed Sen Sen, a breath improver.

It was a landmark in any child's education when he finally learned the multiplication table up to 12 by heart. Of course, in every class there was one smart aleck who could multiply 13 by 13 in his head and tell you right off that the answer was 169.

The honeymoon was over when a bride, in a burst of mistaken zeal, washed her husband's stinky pipes with soap and hot water.

For every mustache there was a mustache cup.

Kids yelled "beaver" whenever er they saw a white horse or a man with a beard.

People thought twice before they bought anything that cost more than a dollar.

If you searched all the mattresses in a small town you'd find more money than you'd deposit in the local bank.

Anybody who kept his front door locked was regarded as downright unfriendly.

Before going out for the evening, a man could read a long article in the Saturday Evening Post in the time it took for his wife to lace up her corset.

A juvenile delinquent was a boy who furtively dipped the long curls of the girl in front of him into the inkwell on his schoolroom desk.

People spent less of their lives hurrying to get to places they didn't want to go in order to do something they really didn't enjoy.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — Although the end of the year is still 12 weeks away, some stock market investors are getting ready to sell their worst performers, their aim being to reduce the tax bite on their 1969 income.

Up to $1,000 in net losses may be subtracted from ordinary taxable income, and that means a tax reduction of $250 for somebody in a 25 per cent tax bracket. Not much, but where else do losers win?

One reason for the early selling plans is the low market. Through September, $64.8 billion has been erased from the market value of all securities listed on the New York Stock Exchange. That means plenty of tax-loss selling.

Early selling also helps investors to avoid the year-end crush, when poor performing stocks are pushed even lower by tax-loss sellers. Inevitably, thousands of investors wait until the last minute before disposing of poor performers.

Proposed legislation is also bound to influence selling. Under the new tax bill, now in Congress, certain benefits of tax-loss selling would be reduced or eliminated. Rather than wait another year, therefore, investors intent on registering their losses might decide to act immediately.

The big danger in tax-loss selling is that good stocks, temporarily depressed, will be sold merely to obtain a tax reduction, and then never repurchased.

Ideally, some investment managers say, tax-loss selling should be a means of upgrading portfolios. That is, a poor performing stock should be sold for fundamental reasons and replaced with a stock having better prospect.

But it isn't always so. If an investor is certain he made a mistake on purchasing a stock there is no reason in the world why he shouldn't simply get rid of it, reduce his taxes and use the money in a more profitable way.

This is the most common tax-loss situation:

An investor adds up all the long-term gains—long term meaning six months between purchase and sale—and then totals his losses. If long-term losses exceed long-term gains then he has won himself a tax deduction.

This deduction from ordinary income may total up to $1,000, but not a penny more. However, if the loss does exceed $1,000 it can be applied to the next year's taxes indefinitely. A net loss of $3,000 for example, can serve to reduce taxes on 1969, 1970 and 1971 income.

Short-term losses and gains—those of six months or less—can be treated in the same manner. But in no case can short-term losses be applied to reduce long-term gains. The reason: they're taxed differently.

This situation may be altered under present tax reform legislation. The bill now in Congress would restate the meaning of long term. Next year you might have to wait 12 months between purchase and sale to establish the transaction as long term.

What if you want to retain your stock and still establish a loss? It really can't be done, but many people simply sell their stock, wait 31 days and then repurchase it. The 31 days is the minimum interval for establishing the loss.

There is another way of handling the same situation, and that is to buy a similar amount of stock and then sell the original purchase 30 days later. This leaves the taxpayer with his stock and his tax loss as well.

The two methods involve dangers, however, and both dangers involve price movements. In the first instance a rise in the price of the stock would make it costly to re-establish a position. In the second situation there is a danger that the price of the stock will fall even further.

TWELVE ASPIRING WRITERS in the graduating class of a prominent school of journalism have vowed that, times being what they are, they'll pen nary a discouraging word and confine their literary output to cheerful, heart-warming subjects. What they propose to be, in short, is chipper by the dozen.

A pun in mythology? Perish the thought, you say? Well, how about the day the Norse god Thor was galloping along on his favorite steed and exulted, "I'm Thor! I'm Thor!" And the steed snorted, "You muthed have forgotten your thadde, thilly!"

RIDDLE-DE-DEE:

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

My husband and I drink a lot of alcohol but we are not alcoholics. We try to cut down but when there is any crisis in the family, we begin to drink a lot again. We have been told there is a drug that can control the urge to drink and reduce the amount. Can you tell us more about this drug and where it can be purchased?

Mrs. H. T., Indiana
Dear Mrs. T.: There is a great deal of apparent confusion about the problem of alcoholism in your letter. I hope that with a better understanding of the nature of this chronic "family disease" you will be in a better position to come face to face with it and stop deluding yourself. And, for emphasis, let me repeat that alcoholism is a disease which needs intensive treatment if it is not to undermine your life and the lives of other members of your family.

How great an amount of alcohol must you consume before being considered an alcoholic? Is it the amount, the frequency with which it is taken, the need at all hours of the day, or only when under emotional stress, that determines this?

I know a man who says that he drinks only under tension. The degree of his tension depends on whether his favorite baseball club lost that day. If it wins, he drinks. If it loses, he drinks. If the club doesn't play, he drinks because he's sad. These are all good reasons, he thinks, for drinking a large amount of alcohol. He too, does not consider himself an alcoholic.

If you were to trace the slow progression of the amount of alcohol you need to get through a day, you would find that you are denying to yourselves the seriousness of your alcoholic problem.

There is no drug that can control the urge to drink or reduce the amount. There is a drug, Antabuse, which is not a cure for alcoholism, but which can be used successfully in another way. When an alcoholic has been shown the dangers of his illness and when he learns that there are many important advantages to being completely sober, then this drug can be used to help carry him over periods of temptation.

It is a complex drug that works in a peculiar way that affects the liver and causes chemical changes. When taken, the slightest drop of alcohol in any form can make one violently sick. A larger quantity of alcohol taken with the drug can cause most serious complications and even result in death. This is a harsh way to tell of the advantages of this drug, but the truth is undeniable.

When Anabuse is taken every day, alcohol must be avoided in any form and even small amounts used in cooking must be eliminated.

In order to control your problem, you first must face the truth of your situation and discuss the matter openly with your physician. There may be a need for psychological help to start you on the proper path to recovery. Personally I believe that one of the dominant forces in modern society offered to the alcoholic is the program of Alcoholics Anonymous. Consult them. Later your doctor may suggest Antabuse.

On Population Explosion

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN
The ghost of Thomas Malthus, who said more than a hundred years ago that the world's population must inevitably overtake the food supply, seems to be haunting practically everybody these days. Former Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara makes our flesh creep with a statement that, if births go on for a few centuries at the present accelerating rates, we shall arrive at a point where there will be one human being standing on every available square foot of the earth. A group linking birth control to the need for conservation, calling itself the Association for Voluntary Sterilization, Inc., meets in New York to listen to Stanford University's Dr. Paul Ehrlich, who says we are faced with mass starvation before the world doubles its population in the next thirty-five years. "The Population Bomb Keeps Ticking," say the advertisements paid for by concerned citizens. The Executive Director of the Sierra Club, David Brower, informs us that his own organization has been the much too calm about the ultimate threat of the population explosion to mankind. He is sorry that California has caught up with New York in its population statistics.

It is hard to resist such a universal drum-beating, and any look at a city slum lends credence to Dr. Ehrlich's worst fears. But are we being suckered by the doom-sayers? Malthus was just as uncompromising as our present-day Dr. Ehrlich, but the vast expansion of Nineteenth Century scientific agriculture knocked all his projected figures out of kilter. At the very least Malthus's timing was thrown off by 150 years. The West in particular refused to take the Malthusian road to destruction: as it industrialized, its rate of family formation levelled off, and the new families had fewer children.

When the U.S. was witnessing the baby boom of the Nineteen Forties, there was a concomitant boom in the intellectual birth-rate of neo-Malthusian economists. But now it begins to appear that the baby proliferation of the Forties and Fifties was a momentary phenomenon, an eddy, so to speak, which deflected our attention from the main current.

Last year the U.S. population increased by a mere one per cent, and our birth-rate was lower than it had ever been before. Insofar as the Association for Voluntary Sterilization is speaking to North Americans, it is evident that it might as well take a holiday until there is a revolt against the Pill. The organization's title is an affront to the Latin concept of "machismo," or maleness, anyway, so talk of sterilization would flop below the U.S. border.

The so-called underdeveloped regions of the world, such as India and Latin America, are, of course, in a real population bind. Dr. Ehrlich's figures for the population "doubling time" are twenty-three years for Peru and twenty-two years for Colombia. In India, the prediction is that there will be two hundred million more people by the end of the Seventies.

The probability that India is in for trouble is terribly real. But if starvation does overtake the Indian subcontinent in the midst of an unchecked birth-rate, it will, according to an able paper presented by Dr. Sudha Shenoy at the recent Mont Pelerin Economic Conference in Venezuela, be because of the New Delhi brand of socialist politics. These politics have let "rural investment" fall at a time when "planning" was pushing most of the available capital into inefficient State-directed industrialization. The potential returns to investment in agriculture in India, says Dr. Shenoy, are "several times those in light or heavy industry." But, she adds, the proper "investment pattern could scarcely be centrally determined and directed from New Delhi."

Even Dr. Ehrlich, in his book on "The Population Bomb," indicates that if India can not muster the intelligence to solve its political and economic problems it will never succeed in explaining the need for birth control to a distracted peasantry.

The answer to the Malthusian doom-sayers comes from a colleague of the gloomy Dr. Ehrlich at Stanford, Professor Karl Brandt. In his particular Mont Pelerin Conference paper Dr. Brandt detailed the innovations that give mankind the opportunity of producing "food, feed and fibers unlimited." Brandt's list of long-term innovations would require a separate column to do them justice; it is enough here to mention the short-term successes, such as the new fast-growing paddy-rice seed that makes it possible to harvest three or four rice crops a year in East Asian countries.

If Dr. Brandt is right, Malthus can be proved wrong even for Asia and Latin America, but only if the politicians permit the producers to go to work. It would follow from a correct political solution that better-fed and more enlightened populations would take care of their own family planning without "voluntary sterilization" or government edicts designed to make the "third child" illegal.

Rosey Grier never planned to play pro football. But the opportunity came along and for 13 years his huge frame struck terror in the hearts of opposing quarterbacks.

Now his career is taking a different turn, he has been signed as a semiregular on the "Daniel Boone" television series, portraying a runaway slave who lives among the Indians. Not many series stars would tolerate a supporting player of Grier's size. Fortunately Fess Parker is an inch taller than Rosey's 6 feet 5.

"He's taller, but I'm bigger," remarked the former pro line-man, who declined to reveal his current poundage.

Grier, who also heads his own television variety show locally, is enthused about acting: "It's fun to work with the stars and the rest of the cast and to try to complement their efforts with a contribution of your own. You are doing your share and try to make it stand up. There's real enjoyment in that."

There is special enjoyment for Rosey Grier because of his particular background. He was one of 11 children born to a Negro couple of Cuthbert, Ga. Neither of his parents had gone beyond the fourth grade, and of the 11 children, only Rosey and a brother graduated from high school and attended college.

"As a child I felt a strong desire to communicate, but I feared I would never know how," he recalled. "I felt my English was poor and my diction was not good enough, so I was afraid to talk."

"I was ill at ease all through college (Penn State) and I'm still catching up. When I started playing pro ball for the New York Giants, I played the role of clown. I did that for the good of the club and also to cover up my inadequacies. Later, when I moved to the Los Angeles Rams, I started to take on more responsibilities."

Grier's football career came abruptly to a halt on Sept. 1, 1967. He was chasing Mike Garrett in an exhibition game against the Kansas City Chiefs when he suddenly dropped to the turf.

Grier had torn his Achilles tendon. He recovered enough to play again, but decided it was time to quit. "You'll never get rich, not even wealthy, so why continue?" he told himself.

He went into show business at a time when the climate was good for black performers.

Saturday will be National Newspaperboy Day — and across the country carrier boys will be saluted for the part they play in getting the news to the public.

In every newspaper office the newspaperboy is recognized as an important link between the people who make the newspaper and those who read it. Not important — indispensable.

If the paper doesn't get to the subscriber, in good order and on time, it fails to develop its full potential.

The newspaperboy is an independent business man. He buys at wholesale and sells at retail. He learns that he must collect his accounts if he is to come out ahead of the game. He also learns that to keep his customers he must keep them satisfied.

As for the financial rewards, they are substantial if not fabulous. Paper routes have put many boys on the road to leadership.

We are sure that many of the boys we salute today will be leaders tomorrow. And meanwhile we're proud to have them working with us in a worthwhile job.

According To Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Man can make machines that remember, but no machine gets the joy out of remembering that man does himself.

It is his memories, indeed, that largely make a man. They are food to his mind, fuel to his spirit. They resurrect his past and are his chief sanctuary from muffled oblivion.

For no yesterday is dead so long as it is remembered.

Your own album of memories is pretty extensive if you can look back and remember when —

A boy could buy enough candy with a nickel to make himself sick.

Auto horns had rubber bulbs you squeezed by hand.

Grant's Tomb and the Woolworth Building, the world's tallest skyscraper, were Manhattan's chief tourist sights.

Everybody was sure there was an opium den behind every beaded curtain in Chinatown.

No matter what ailed a woman her first step toward a cure was to climb into bed with a hot water bottle.

A man was suspected of secret drinking if he habitually chewed Sen Sen, a breath improver.

It was a landmark in any child's education when he finally learned the multiplication table up to 12 by heart. Of course, in every class there was one smart aleck who could multiply 13 by 13 in his head and tell you right off that the answer was 169.

The honeymoon was over when a bride, in a burst of mistaken zeal, washed her husband's stinky pipes with soap and hot water.

For every mustache there was a mustache cup.

Kids yelled "beaver!" whenever they saw a white horse or a man with a beard.

People thought twice before they bought anything that cost more than a dollar.

If you searched all the mattresses in a small town you'd find more money than was on deposit in the local bank.

Anybody who kept his front door locked was regarded as downright unfriendly.

Before going out for the evening, a man could read a long article in the Saturday Evening Post in the time it took for his wife to lace up her corset.

A juvenile delinquent was a boy who furtively dipped the long curls of the girl in front of him into the inkwell on his schoolroom desk.

People spent less of their lives hurrying to get to places they didn't want to go in order to do something they really didn't enjoy.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — Although the end of the year is still 12 weeks away, some stock market investors are getting ready to sell their worst performers, their aim being to reduce the tax bite on their 1969 income.

Up to $1,000 in net losses may be subtracted from ordinary taxable income, and that means a tax reduction of $250 for somebody in a 25 per cent tax bracket. Not much, but where else do losers win?

One reason for the early selling plans is the low market. Through September, $54.3 billion has been erased from the market value of all securities listed on the New York Stock Exchange. That means plenty of tax-loss selling.

Early selling also helps investors to avoid the year-end crush, when poor performing stocks are pushed even lower by tax-loss sellers. Inevitably, thousands of investors wait until the last minute before disposing of poor performers.

Proposed legislation is also bound to influence selling. Under the new tax bill, now in Congress, certain benefits of tax-loss selling would be reduced or eliminated. Rather than wait another year, therefore, investors intent on registering their losses might decide to act immediately.

The big danger in tax-loss selling is that good stocks, temporarily depressed, will be sold merely to obtain a tax reduction, and then never repurchased.

Ideally, some investment managers say, tax-loss selling should be a means of upgrading portfolios. That is, a poor performing stock should be sold for fundamental reasons and replaced with a stock having better prospect.

But it isn't always so. If an investor is certain he made a mistake on purchasing a stock there is no reason in the world why he shouldn't simply get rid of it, reduce his taxes and use the money in a more profitable way.

Ag Chief Supports Rights Ruling

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture Secretary Clifford M. Hardin has moved to overcome Justice Department charges that his agency has been dragging its feet in civil rights enforcement.

Hardin has sent a memorandum to agency heads giving them until March 31 to meet a three-part directive ordering full compliance with civil rights laws.

Last April, Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell sent Hardin a letter criticizing the department's extension service for not fully providing its facilities to blacks.

Other attacks have been leveled against the department for laxity in seeing that farm programs, emergency loans, rural housing and employment were provided equally to minority groups.

Hardin's memo, dated Sept. 23, has received only limited distribution in the department and no official publicity outside.

A copy was made available to a news man upon request.

Hardin's order stated three objectives:

—“Correct programs in which practices bar integration and thus allow or lead to participation on a segregated basis.

—“Each agency will review the activities of all offices for the existence of any practices that are or might lead to segregation and take immediate action for their elimination. Complete elimination of segregation and discrimination with regard to meetings, office space and related facilities must be achieved now.

—“Correct programs that have been conducted in ways that permit economic barriers or social inhibitions to limit participation of certain racial, color or nationalistic groups, even though such programs are announced as available to all persons.

—“Correct programs in which service to specific racial, color or nationality groups is inferior because of the failure of department employees or cooperators to work across racial lines regardless of their own race, color or nationality.”

The memo instructed each agency head to report “that the three steps outlined above have been accomplished” by March 31.

Hardin also laid down strict orders aimed at full adherence to federal equal employment laws. And, he said, “Special efforts must be made to assure that job opportunities in the department are made known to men and women of all races, religions and ethnic backgrounds.”

Mitchell said in his letter that “In Alabama and elsewhere in the South assigning extension workers on the basis of race is widespread.”

The department has not divulged information relating to progress made by the Extension Service in response to Mitchell's charges despite repeated requests by newsmen.

NOTICE OF ELECTION ON TAX LEVY IN EXCESS OF THE TEN MILL LIMITATION

NOTICE is hereby given that in pursuance of a Resolution of the Board of Education of the City of Circleville, Ohio, passed on the 13th day of August, 1969, there will be submitted to a vote of the people of said Circleville City School District at a General Election to be held in the School District of Circleville, Ohio, at the regular places of voting therein, on Tuesday, the 31st day of November, 1969, the question of levying, in excess of the ten mill limitation, for the benefit of the Circleville City School District for the purpose of providing current expenses.

Said tax being: an additional tax at a rate not exceeding 6.3 mills for each one dollar of valuation, which amounts to sixty-three cents ($0.63) for each one hundred dollars of valuation, for a continuing period of time beginning with the tax year, 1969.

The Polls for said Election will be open at 8:30 o'clock A.M. and remain open until 6:30 o'clock P.M. Eastern Standard Time of said day.

By order of the Board of Elections, of Pickaway County, Ohio, William A. Stout, Chairman, Lorene Struckman, Director, Dated September 30, 1969, Oct. 3, 10, 17, 24, 31

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Oddsmakers in Cleveland say it's a tossup between Democratic Mayor Carl B. Stokes and Republican challenger Ralph J. Perk in the November mayoral election.

In other words, bettors say the odds are 6-5, take your choice—either Stokes, the first black mayor of a major American city, or Perk, who drew strongly in white ethnic areas in winning his post as Cuyahoga County auditor.

Oddsmakers were not betting on the chances of Socialist Workers Party candidate Syd Stapleton.

Physical Fitness Needed For Big Hunting Trip

When the average sedentary husband decides to go off on a big hunting trip with the boys, it is time for his wife to take note. Thousands of these same average sedentary husbands come to grief each autumn because they are not physically fit.

If your husband's favorite sport is sitting in front of a television set cheering on the home team, you can be sure he is not in proper condition for walking miles up and down hills, exposure to all sorts of weather, or eating and sleeping under largely primitive conditions.

Typical of the woes that afflict most hunters are physical exhaustion, muscle strain and rupture, slipped discs, bruises and cuts, shin splints, and other ailments associated with loss of physical tone and endurance.

If the now-and-then hunter had a complete medical check-up, engaged in some prior physical conditioning, and packed a good medical kit in his duffel bag these mishaps might be avoided.

As his wife and chief mentor, it is up to you to see that he does all three.

A doctor's examination helps to establish individual guidelines for exercise. Most important is an electrocardiogram for men over 40 who plan to embark on a strenuous exercise program.

Bird hunters, deer stalkers and those hunting mountain-inhabiting game especially need exercise to develop endurance.

Your hunter will profit most from such exercises as push-ups, deep knee bends, body twisting, and touching the floor. It might encourage him if you joined him in doing these exercises. By the way, it will do wonders for your figure too. Jogging and stationary running will help build up reserve strength in the heart and muscles around the lungs.

Even if in good condition, any hunter can be injured or fall ill far from the nearest doctor or hospital. A well-equipped medical kit may prevent disability or even death.

A good basic kit should include a first-aid manual, elastic bandage or one-inch surgical tape for binding strains and sprains, talcum powder to prevent foot discomfort, an antacid to relieve stomach distress brought on by his own cooking, a tube of petroleum jelly for burns or chapped lips, an insect repellent to prevent insect bites, an antihistamine lotion for relieving those that happen anyway, an antibiotic or antiseptic ointment for minor cuts, and aspirin to relieve headaches and tired aching muscles. The kit might also contain tweezers, scissors, a triangular bandage, sterile bandage compresses in several sizes and gauze roller bandage. Certainly, a first-aid manual and medical kit don't substitute for the care of a physician. But out in the wilderness, they will surely help. And the safe return of the man of your house is worth your attention to these details.

Youth Says More Good News Needed

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Perry J. Ludy, the 18-year-old Negro named by President Nixon as this year's Boy of the Year, says the news media should tell more about the good things youth are doing.

"When you have riots and disturbances," Ludy told a news conference Thursday, "the newsmen are there. But when you have discussions by youth groups at church or at conferences, there is no one there."

"Someone should bring out the positive," the Northwestern University student from Port Hueneme said.

Czechoslovakia Puts Curb On Citizens Going Abroad

PRAGUE (AP) — The Czechoslovak government's curtailment of travel to the West "was like the devaluation of the franc," the young engineer said as he sat in his car at a Prague gas station.

"Everybody expected them to close the border, but it didn't happen," he said. "We got complacent and bang—we spend our vacation at home."

The engineer and his wife, their car loaded with baggage for a trip to West Germany and Belgium, were two of the 100,000

Czechs and Slovaks whose permits for private, unofficial travel to Western countries were canceled Thursday.

The government said that in the future issuance of visas "will be governed especially by an economic point of view." The government said it was restricting travel "so that tourism may develop in harmony with the interests of the state and within its economic and foreign currency possibilities."

In simpler terms, the announcement means that the Communist regime wants to cut down on the foreign exchange it loses when its citizens spend in the West and wants to let only those it can trust cross the frontier.

The government said travel documents would not be issued to persons in legal trouble or debt or one whose "conduct indicates he intends to stay abroad illegally."

Hundreds of travelers had already started trips to Western Europe Thursday when they learned the news. Frontier troops removed them from trains and buses, and turned motorists back at the borders with West Germany and Austria. Many were still streaming home today.

The new regulations are similar to those in effect in Poland and Hungary but are less rigid than those in East Germany.

In 1968, a total of 450,000 Czechoslovaks visited the West, and in the first eight months of 1969 nearly 600,000 had applied to go.

"I can still travel abroad as an official," said an official of an exporting office, "but I've started dreading my next trip, having to decide whether to come back or not."

Emigration permits will be granted only to unite parents with minor children, to permit marriage to a foreigner or "in cases deserving particular consideration," the government said.

The announcement also said the government had decided to stop casual visits by Westerners on "weekend" or transit visas issued at Austrian border points.

It said some foreign tourists are "trying to influence negatively our international political development," and henceforth foreigners must apply for visas at Czechoslovak embassies abroad, except in emergencies.

Physical Fitness Needed For Big Hunting Trip

When the average sedentary husband decides to go off on a big hunting trip with the boys, it is time for his wife to take note. Thousands of these same average sedentary husbands come to grief each autumn because they are not physically fit.

If your husband's favorite sport is sitting in front of a television set cheering on the home team, you can be sure he is not in proper condition for walking miles up and down hills, exposure to all sorts of weather, or eating and sleeping under largely primitive conditions.

Typical of the woes that afflict most hunters are physical exhaustion, muscle strain and rupture, slipped discs, bruises and cuts, shin splints, and other ailments associated with loss of physical tone and endurance.

If the now-and-then hunter had a complete medical check-up, engaged in some prior physical conditioning, and packed a good medical kit in his duffel bag these mishaps might be avoided.

As his wife and chief mentor, it is up to you to see that he does all three.

A doctor's examination helps to establish individual guidelines for exercise. Most important is an electrocardiogram for men over 40 who plan to embark on a strenuous exercise program.

Bird hunters, deer stalkers and those hunting mountain-inhabiting game especially need exercise to develop endurance.

Your hunter will profit most from such exercises as push-ups, deep knee bends, body twisting, and touching the floor. It might encourage him if you joined him in doing these exercises. By the way, it will do wonders for your figure too. Jogging and stationary running will help build up reserve strength in the heart and muscles around the lungs.

Even if in good condition, any hunter can be injured or fall ill far from the nearest doctor or hospital. A well-equipped medical kit may prevent disability or even death.

A good basic kit should include a first-aid manual, elastic

bandage or one-inch surgical tape for binding strains and sprains, talcum powder to prevent foot discomfort, an antacid to relieve stomach distress brought on by his own cooking, a tube of petroleum jelly for burns or chapped lips, an insect repellent to prevent insect bites, an antihistamine lotion for relieving those that happen anyway, an antibiotic or antiseptic ointment for minor cuts, and aspirin to relieve headaches and tired aching muscles. The kit might also contain tweezers, scissors, a triangular bandage, sterile bandage compresses in several sizes and gauze roller bandage. Certainly, a first-aid manual and medical kit don't substitute for the care of a physician. But out in the wilderness, they will surely help. And the safe return of the man of your house is worth your attention to these details.

Youth Says More Good News Needed

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Perry J. Ludy, the 18-year-old Negro named by President Nixon as this year's Boy of the Year, says the news media should tell more about the good things youth are doing.

"When you have riots and disturbances," Ludy told a news conference Thursday, "the newsmen are there. But when you have discussions by youth groups at church or at conferences, there is no one there."

"Someone should bring out the positive," the Northwestern University student from Port Hueneme said.

Czechoslovakia Puts Curb On Citizens Going Abroad

PRAGUE (AP) — The Czechoslovak government's curtailment of travel to the West "was like the devaluation of the franc," the young engineer said as he sat in his car at a Prague gas station.

"Everybody expected them to close the border, but it didn't happen," he said. "We got complacent and bang—we spend our vacation at home."

The engineer and his wife, their car loaded with baggage for a trip to West Germany and Belgium, were two of the 100,000

Czechs and Slovaks whose permits for private, unofficial travel to Western countries were canceled Thursday.

The government said that in the future issuance of visas "will be governed especially by an economic point of view." The government said it was restricting travel "so that tourism may develop in harmony with the interests of the state and within its economic and foreign currency possibilities."

In simpler terms, the announcement means that the Communist regime wants to cut down on the foreign exchange it loses when its citizens spend in the West and wants to let only those it can trust cross the frontier.

The government said travel documents would not be issued to persons in legal trouble or debt or one whose "conduct indicates he intends to stay abroad illegally."

SOUTHWEST CENTRAL OHIO — Partly cloudy tonight and Saturday with a chance of showers. Mild tonight. Lows in the upper 50s and lower 60s. Little change in temperatures Saturday. Highs in the 70s. Outlook Sunday: Considerable cloudiness with a chance of showers and cooler.

ANDREWS SUPPORTS Lower Voting Age
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Republican Chairman John S. Andrews voiced support Thursday for the constitutional amendment, to be voted on Nov. 4, which would lower the voting age in Ohio from 21 to 19.

Andrews said he believes that youths, given the opportunity to vote, would "exercise it in a responsible and meaningful way."

Views on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "The Ghost and Mrs. Muir" is a new tenant on ABC's Thursday night schedule, inhabiting an early time slot suitable for a program that has great appeal for children.

The success of any fantasy is pegged on persuading the viewer to accept the premise that Samantha of "Bewitched" is a witch; or, in this case, that a 200-year-old ghost of a sea captain can materialize and disappear at will, cast spells and control the climate in and around a cottage rented by an attractive widow and her two children.

The show, which moved from NBC this season, heaped coincidence on the usual serving of supernatural jokes Thursday night. There arrived upon the scene a look-alike of the captain's shade, a bearded Irishman who flipped over Mrs. Muir and made her ghost furiously jealous.

It was 30 minutes full of the captain's raging at his rival and inflicting various spells to get rid of him, with cues for the audience from an extravagant laugh track.

Pretty Hope Lange handles herself in spirited style as the widow, and Edward Mulhare is properly lusty and tempestuous as the salty ghost. There are a couple of cute children, a starch housekeeper and a nervous real estate man, but they had little to do in the first episode.

"Ironside" is safely back for its third season with the only change some new wheels for the chief. The NBC story Thursday was a fast-moving episode about a prison break that involved capturing the warden and his wife and using Ironside's new and handsomely equipped pad wagon for their get-away.

The escape plot was ingenious and until the final moment, when the escapees were rounded up without firing a shot, it seemed that things were going their way.

The show is dominated by the wheel-chair-bound character that Raymond Burr has developed into a lovable curmudgeon. Don Mitchell provides a special dimension with his hard-nosed but warm portrayal of the detective's helper and substitute legs. Week in and week out the series maintains a high standard of scripts and acting.

If all goes well, there may soon be a second series featuring a character developed by novelist Erle Stanley Gardner, whose Perry Mason was the basis for the nine-year series that made Burr a major television star. A two-hour movie, to serve as a pilot, is in the works for NBC with Doug Selby, a young district attorney, as the central character.

Raymond Lantz, owner of the Idlewood Motel, said Hoss asked for a crib for the girl, but Lantz says he did not see Mrs. Peugeot. Later Hoss and Lori Mae were also seen together on Sept. 23 and Sept. 24, at motels in Tiffin, Ohio, and Fairberry, Ill., according to the FBI.

Yoko Ono Admitted To London Hospital

LONDON (AP) — Yoko Ono, wife of Beatle John Lennon, has been admitted to a hospital for treatment of an illness connected with pregnancy. She expects a child in December.

Miss Ono, a 34-year-old Japanese artist, and Lennon were married in 1968. She had a miscarriage last November.

Grubby Little Man Hijacks Plane To Cuba

MIAMI (AP) — A grubby but polite little gunman pulled the year's 46th airliner hijacking to Cuba Thursday. The passengers included four major league baseball players and a coach.

The hijacker, slightly built and speaking little English, took over the plane—National Airlines Flight 42 from Los Angeles to Miami—as it passed over Texas.

The jetliner carried a crew of seven and 63 passengers, including Roger Craig, pitching coach of the San Diego Padres, Mel Queen of the Cincinnati Reds, Dave Marshall of the San Francisco Giants, Dick Corkins of the Padres and Dennis Peepke of the Kansas City Royals.

Stewardess Ann Baker of Miami said the man grabbed her arm and ordered, "Havana, Cuba! Cockpit!"

"He had a gun, a black gun," Miss Baker told newsmen in Miami when the airliner completed its trip, four hours and six minutes late, after the unscheduled Havana stop.

The hijacker handed notes to several passengers. Queen's 26-year-old wife, Gail, said she got one saying: "Cuban refugee. Please keep quiet. We'll land in my homeland in two hours, where are my wife and my son."

Craig said he and the four baseball players were headed for Venezuela to participate in Latin-American play during the major league off season.

A National Airlines spokesman said the only listed passenger who failed to return from Cuba was F. Birera, who boarded in Los Angeles.

Jazz Trumpeter Nicked By Bullet

NEW YORK (AP) — Miles Davis, the jazz trumpeter, was nicked by a bullet he said was fired at him Thursday as he sat in his parked car on a Manhattan street.

Davis, 42, told police the gunman was one of three men who jumped out of a taxicab and that five shots were fired, several striking his automobile. A companion, Margarette Eskridge, escaped injury.

Federal Officials OK Ohio Pollution Efforts

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Interlake Steel Corp. officials told a panel of federal experts Thursday the firm will have six new pollution control projects, costing nearly $500,000, in operation by the end of November.

Testifying at a hearing before the Federal Water Pollution Control Agency (FWPCA), company representatives said the new projects will bring Interlake's total investment in pollution control and abatement to $1.8 million.

At the conclusion of the one-day hearing, Murray Stein, assistant FWPCA commissioner for enforcement, commended Interlake on the steps it had taken to combat pollution and announced a renewed effort for federal-state cooperation.

It appeared likely that the U. S. Department of Interior would issue a report later on the hearing here and two days of hearings earlier this week in Cleveland.

The department originally cited the city of Toledo, Interlake Steel and three steel firms in the Cleveland area for polluting Lake Erie. But the federal officials' attitudes toned down following a storm of complaints by state officials who said the criticism was unfair.

At Thursday's hearing here, Ned Skeldon, vice chairman of the Ohio Water Development Authority, accused the Interior Department of making false and unsupportable statements concerning Toledo's role in the pollution of the Maumee River and Lake Erie.

Skeldon indicated that federal authorities chose to examine Toledo because they were afraid of offending larger cities. He said Toledo's efforts in pollution control deserved praise.

Dr. Emmer W. Arnold, state health director, also blasted the FWPCA for what he termed a double standard approach to the problem of pollution.

He said the Interior Department's criticism of Toledo was a "grandstand play" and reiterated that Toledo was on schedule in its pollution control and abatement programs, as was Interlake Steel.

Meanwhile, Gov. James A. Rhodes announced in Columbus Thursday that the state will begin distributing at the end of the month $100 million in water pollution control funds for local projects.

"We are going ahead with Ohio funds without waiting for the additional federal pollution control funds which had been promised but so far have not been forthcoming," Rhodes said.

He said Ohio was to have received $51 million this year under a federal pollution law authorization, but actual federal budget figures called for only $9 million.

The $100 million comes from the Issue No. 1 bond program approved by voters last fall. The Ohio General Assembly cleared the way for action on the program by appropriating the money to the Ohio Water Development Authority for implementation.

Rhodes said the OWDA has received more than 130 applications from cities, villages and counties for assistance in financing water pollution control projects. He said the program will permit local subdivisions to save 30 per cent of the cost of the projects.

Hoss Jailed For Rape

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Fireman and police were expected to renew their search through the woodlands of Northwestern Pennsylvania today for a 21-year-old mother the FBI says convicted rapist Stanley B. Hoss has admitted kidnapping.

Meanwhile, Hoss, accused killer of a suburban policeman, was sentenced Thursday to 10 to 20 years in prison for the rape of a 17-year-old girl.

Hoss, his hands in manacles, was immediately taken to a maximum security cell in Western Penitentiary while search teams hunted 10 miles north of Brookville for Linda Mae Peugeot of Cumberland Md. Hoss, 26, is charged with kidnapping Mrs. Peugeot and her 2-year-old daughter, Lori Mae, from a shopping center near their home Sept. 22.

It was on the same date that the owner of a Franklin, Pa., motel claims Hoss and the little girl checked into a room at the motel.

Raymond Lantz, owner of the Idlewood Motel, said Hoss asked for a crib for the girl, but Lantz says he did not see Mrs. Peugeot. Later Hoss and Lori Mae were also seen together on Sept. 23 and Sept. 24, at motels in Tiffin, Ohio, and Fairberry, Ill., according to the FBI.

Yoko Ono Admitted To London Hospital

LONDON (AP) — Yoko Ono, wife of Beatle John Lennon, has been admitted to a hospital for treatment of an illness connected with pregnancy. She expects a child in December.

Miss Ono, a 34-year-old Japanese artist, and Lennon were married in 1968. She had a miscarriage last November.

Barbara Shutt Slightly Better

CINCINNATI (AP) — Barbara Jean Shutt, 24, who took an overdose of drugs in jail Tuesday after she was convicted of the murder of her foster mother Monday was reported in a semi-conscious condition at General Hospital today, but still not out of danger.

Her condition was reduced from critical to serious and remained in the intensive care ward, hospital officials said.

Monday, a Hamilton County Common Pleas Court Jury found her guilty of first-degree murder in the shooting - bludgeon death of Dr. Jane Shutt, 43, a psychiatrist. The jury recommended mercy.

Standard Oil Chief Denies Being Critic

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The president of Standard Oil Co. (Ohio) has disclaimed association of his company with widely published criticism of the U.S. Justice Department's opposition of a proposed merger of Sohio and BP Oil Corp., U.S. subsidiary of British Petroleum Co., Ltd.

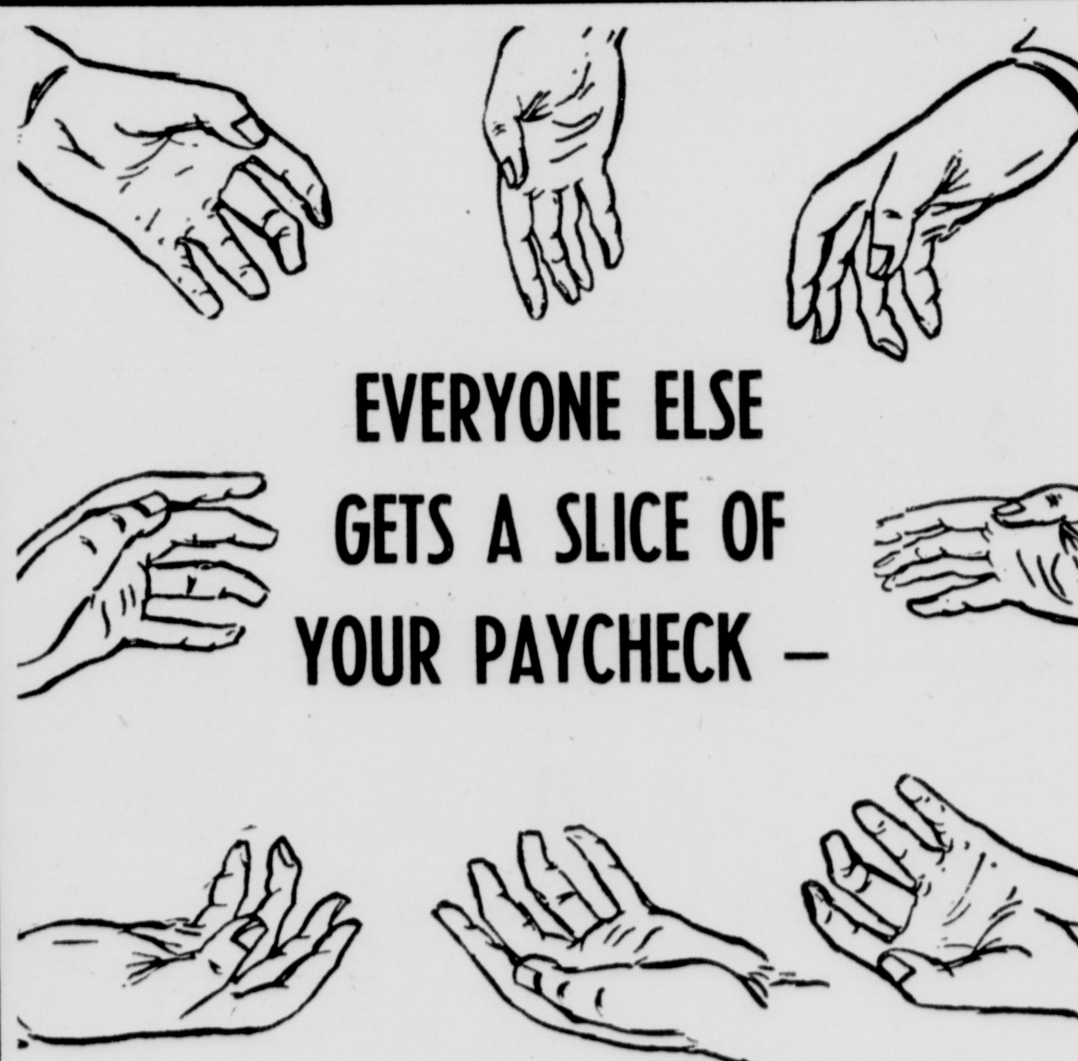

Charles E. Spahr backed away from the criticism Thursday at a shareholders meeting here, and called for a special meeting Oct. 29 to vote on the merger held up by federal government opposition.

Grubby Little Man Hijacks Plane To Cuba

MIAMI (AP) — A grubby but polite little gunman pulled the year's 46th hijacking to Cuba Thursday. The passengers included four major league baseball players and a coach.

The hijacker, slightly built and speaking little English, took over the plane—National Airlines Flight 42 from Los Angeles to Miami—as it passed over Texas.

The jetliner carried a crew of seven and 63 passengers, including Roger Craig, pitching coach of the San Diego Padres, Mel Queen of the Cincinnati Reds, Dave Marshall of the San Francisco Giants, Dick Corkins of the Padres and Dennis Peepke of the Kansas City Royals.

Stewardess Ann Baker of Miami said the man grabbed her arm and ordered, "Havana, Cuba! Cockpit!"

"He had a gun, a black gun," Miss Baker told newsmen in Miami when the airliner completed its trip, four hours and six minutes late, after the unscheduled Havana stop.

The hijacker handed notes to several passengers. Queen's 26-year-old wife, Gail, said she got one saying: "Cuban refugee. Please keep quiet. We'll land in my homeland in two hours, where are my wife and my son."

Craig said he and the four baseball players were headed for Venezuela to participate in Latin-American play during the major league off season.

A National Airlines spokesman said the only listed passenger who failed to return from Cuba was F. Birera, who boarded in Los Angeles.

Jazz Trumpeter Nicked By Bullet

NEW YORK (AP) — Miles Davis, the jazz trumpeter, was nicked by a bullet he said was fired at him Thursday as he sat in his parked car on a Manhattan street.

Davis, 42, told police the gunman was one of three men who jumped out of a taxicab and that five shots were fired, several striking his automobile. A companion, Margarette Eskridge, escaped injury.

Federal Officials OK Ohio Pollution Efforts

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Interlake Steel Corp. officials told a panel of federal experts Thursday the firm will have six new pollution control projects, costing nearly $500,000, in operation by the end of November.

Testifying at a hearing before the Federal Water Pollution Control Agency (FWPCA), company representatives said the new projects will bring Interlake's total investment in pollution control and abatement to $1.8 million.

At the conclusion of the one-day hearing, Murray Stein, assistant FWPCA commissioner for enforcement, commended Interlake on the steps it had taken to combat pollution and announced a renewed effort for federal-state cooperation.

It appeared likely that the U. S. Department of Interior would issue a report later on the hearing here and two days of hearings earlier this week in Cleveland.

The department originally cited the city of Toledo, Interlake Steel and three steel firms in the Cleveland area for pollution in Lake Erie. But the federal officials' attitudes toned down following a storm of complaints by state officials who said the criticism was unfair.

At Thursday's hearing here, Ned Skeldon, vice chairman of the Ohio Water Development Authority, accused the Interior Department of making false and unsupported statements concerning Toledo's role in the pollution of the Maumee River and Lake Erie.

Views on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "The Ghost and Mrs. Muir" is a new tenant on ABC's Thursday night schedule, inhabiting an early time slot suitable for a program that has great appeal for children.

The success of any fantasy is pegged on persuading the viewer to accept the premise that Samantha of "Bewitched" is a witch; or, in this case, that a 200-year-old ghost of a sea captain can materialize and disappear at will, cast spells and control the climate in and around a cottage rented by an attractive widow and her two children.

The show, which moved from NBC this season, heaped coincidence on the usual serving of supernatural jokes Thursday night. There arrived upon the scene a look-alike of the captain's shade, a bearded Irishman who flipped over Mrs. Muir and made her ghost furiously jealous.

It was 30 minutes full of the captain's raging at his rival and inflicting various spells to get rid of him, with cues for the audience from an extravagant laugh track.

Pretty Hope Lange handles herself in spirited style as the widow, and Edward Mulhare is properly lusty and tempestuous as the salty ghost. There are a couple of cute children, a starchy housekeeper and a nervous real estate man, but they had little to do in the first episode.

"Ironside" is safely back for its third season with the only change some new wheels for the chief. The NBC story Thursday was a fast-moving episode about a prison break that involved capturing the warden and his wife and using Ironside's new and handsomely equipped pad wagon for their get-away.

The escape plot was ingenious and until the final moment, when the escapees were rounded up without firing a shot, it seemed that things were going their way.

The show is dominated by the wheel-chair-bound character that Raymond Burr has developed into a lovable curmudgeon. Don Mitchell provides a special dimension with his hard-nosed but warm portrayal of the detective's helper and substitute legs. Week in and week out the series maintains a high standard of scripts and acting.

If all goes well, there may soon be a second series featuring a character developed by novelist Erle Stanley Gardner, whose Perry Mason was the basis for the nine-year series that made Burr a major television star.

A two-hour movie, to serve as a pilot, is in the works for NBC with Doug Selby, a young district attorney, as the central character.

We'd be lost, wouldn't we, if suddenly computers were withdrawn from our daily life? We have become dependent on them to schedule airplane flights, point out scholastic aptitudes and aid the Internal Revenue Service in checking income tax returns.

But there are things a computer can't do. It can't make a home a better home or a man a better man. A computer can't heal sorrows and disappointments. It can swallow up a lot of statistics and clank out a lot of conclusions, but it can't direct a man to God's love.

As today's world is run more and more by automation, we need the help of the Church to guide us in the spiritual realm of life. We need to experience God's great love for all men. In our mechanical world, only the Church can help us find God's love.

We'd be lost, wouldn't we, if suddenly computers were withdrawn from our daily life? We have become dependent on them to schedule airplane flights, point out scholastic aptitudes and aid the Internal Revenue Service in checking income tax returns.

But there are things a computer can't do. It can't make a home a better home or a man a better man. A computer can't heal sorrows and disappointments. It can swallow up a lot of statistics and clank out a lot of conclusions, but it can't direct a man to God's love.

As today's world is run more and more by automation, we need the help of the Church to guide us in the spiritual realm of life. We need to experience God's great love for all men. In our mechanical world, only the Church can help us find God's love.

The Adult Reading World

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Pickaway County Public Library offers a variety of books for reading pleasure. A list of suggested books for adult reading will be presented weekly for The Herald by the library staff.

"Hatshepsut" by Evelyn Wells. A brilliantly researched biography of the beautiful woman who became Egypt's outstanding queen 3,500 years ago. Hatshepsut's reign was one of the brightest in Egyptian history, but time, and the jealousy of successive rulers have dimmed the memory of her achievements. Today, few, except professional historians, know her as anything but a figure of mystery.

Based on painstaking research, which includes many recent archaeological discoveries, this book penetrates that mystery. The result is a fascinating portrait of an era and the woman and the queen who dominated it. Here, in these pages, the personality and the spirit of Hatshepsut takes shape; the intrigues, her loves, hates, ambitions; her relations with her rebellious half-brother, and with her people to whom she gave 17 years of unparalleled peace and prosperity — in short, all the qualities that moved a noted historian to say, "The first great woman in history, Queen Hatshepsut."

"The Trial of Dr. Spock" by Jessica Mitford. This is Miss Mitford's first book since the celebrated "The American Way of Death", a critical, thoroughly documented book about the American funeral industry. She brings the same clear and pungent writing to this book. The cast of characters, for this trial for conspiracy to counsel, aid and abet violations of the Selective Service Act, is drawn up and set in the legal framework of the courtroom: Dr. Spock, a legend in his own time as a "baby doctor", The Rev. William Sloane Coffin, Jr., Michael Ferber, Mitchell Goodman and Marcus Raskin. Miss Mitford attended the month long trial and interviewed most of the participants. She reports the proceedings with wit and with the sharp reporter's eye for detail.

"Discoverers of America" by Charles Norman. A first hand account of the discovery, exploration, and early colonization of America, told in the words of the men who were there. The letters, journals, and logs of famous explorers and their companions, along with original maps and drawings, which are an outstanding feature of this volume. Charles Norman skillfully weaves these true accounts into a spellbinding, poetic narrative. Among the many great men whose experiences are related are Columbus, Hudson, The Cabots, Drake, Washington.

"Religion Goes to School" by James V. Panoch. Few decisions of the Supreme Court have generated as much controversy as the rulings on prayer and Bible reading in public schools. In the resulting national confusion, many people are under the impression that religion — incorporated in varying degrees in public schools in the past — has been banished forever because of decisions enacted within the last ten years. Religion Goes To School clarifies the actual position of the Supreme Court and presents the resources available for including Bible and religion significantly and lawfully in public education. While this is a practical handbook for teachers it will be found helpful to the interested individual.

Other new titles are: "The Special Diet Cookbook" by Marvin Small and "The Intimate Enemy" by George R. Bach.

Nine Girls Selected For High School Triple Trio

By DIANE MILLER, PENNY and PATTY ARLEDGE

Tryouts for the CHS Triple Trio were held recently with six seniors, one junior and two sophomores selected. New members are Sandy Greene, Mary Brown, Vanessa Hatfield, Cindy Barnhill, Eileen England, Mary Housh, Jan Clifton, Arlene Walters and Carol Garrett.

Eileen England, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman E. England resides with her parents at 230 Logan St. Eileen is a senior at CHS and has been chosen to sing first soprano in the triple trio. Her reaction when chosen was, "I was very happy and excited." A few of Eileen's activities include Curtain Callers, GAA and choir president.

Cindy Barnhill, a senior at CHS, resides with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Barnhill Jr. at 106 Park St. Cindy was chosen to sing first soprano in the triple trio. Her reaction when chosen was, "I was very excited and proud." A few of Cindy's activities include SOS, majorette, Student Council and 4-H.

Arlene Walters, the only junior selected, resides with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Walters at 132 W. Union St. Her reaction to being chosen was "I was really surprised!" She will sing first soprano. Her activities include band, homecoming committee and Junior Class play committee.

Sandy Greene, a senior, resides with her mother, Mrs. Margaret Greene at 716 Renick Road. Her reaction to being chosen was, "Of course I was very happy and proud." Sandy will sing second soprano. Some of Sandy's other activities include SOS, band, 4-H and The Cherished Folk.

When sophomore Vanessa Hatfield found out she was selected to sing second soprano for Triple Trio her reaction was, "I was really surprised because I didn't think I had a chance!" Vanessa resides with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Hatfield of 342 E. Mound St. Her activities include SOS, GAA, Student Council and Volunteers.

"I was surprised because competition was 'tuff'" was the reaction of Mary Brown, senior, when she was chosen for Triple Trio. Mary resides with her mother, Mrs. Mina North, at 403 S. Scioto St. She will sing second soprano. Mary's other activities include SOS, DECA and secretary of choir.

Jan Clifton, a senior at CHS, resides with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Clifton, at 905 Circle Drive. Jan was chosen to sing alto in the Triple Trio. Her reaction when chosen was, "I was very excited and couldn't believe it." A few of Jan's activities include Student Council and flag bearer in the band.

Mary Housh, a senior, sings alto in Triple Trio this year. Mary lives at 471 Stella Ave. with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Housh. Mary's comment upon being chosen was, "I was surprised and happy." Her other activities include 4-H, SOS, band and the Folk Group.

Spirit Boosts School Victories

By VICKI RALSTON

At CHS, as in any high school, school spirit is a must. The combination of enthusiastic cheerleaders and a high-stepping band is unbeatable in promoting spirited support for the school's athletic programs. Add to this an overwhelming response from the whole student body and you help boost the team to victory.

Does CHS have school spirit? Here are a few replies:

Shirley Flaker (spirit chairman of Student Council): "Spirit has not been the best at CHS for quite a while, but enthusiasm is picking up. The bonfire was very successful! Our goal was to boost spirit and the rain didn't stop us!"

Arlene Walters: "School spirit is rooting for a team or organization representing CHS in every way. It is also the pride students take in their school."

Greg Heiskell: "School spirit could be improved. We should all back our scheduled events such as pep rallies, the bonfire and car smash."

William Dunkel, dramatics teacher at CHS: "School spirit is very similar to patriotism. It is fine to have plenty of it if you are sincere. Extremes of school spirit are dangerous, however. They are spontaneous and contagious. People get blindly carried away and actually forget why they are cheering and for what!"

Diane Wilson, physical education teacher and cheerleaders' adviser: "In my estimation, school spirit at CHS could improve. The student body could improve by backing the cheerleaders and student council in the projects they promote, such as the car smash, balloon sales and bonfire."

Brent Liston: "Led by our cheerleaders and generated by the student council the spirit has really grown and it is not 'put-on' as in previous years. Many people think support is not needed to have a winning team, but when you're behind, the sounds of boisterous cheerleaders and an excited crowd sure helps."

News Staff Notes Rights And Freedoms

By RANDY HALLEY

The first amendment to the Constitution of the United States states that congress shall make no law prohibiting the free exercise of the press. Does this mean that a person can print anything that comes to his mind? No, he must be careful that what he prints is the truth.

Since 1946 one problem concerning freedom of the press has stirred up much controversy. At what point does criticism of the government and its policies become an effort to overthrow the government itself? The Supreme Court has said that when one's words clearly endanger public safety then freedom of the press can be limited.

Freedom of the press is truly one of the remarkable advantages of living in the United States. Without the freedom we would not be able to print what we believe and how we feel things can be bettered. The truth about some of our politicians and other men and women in high positions come out as a result of freedom of the press.

We also know what is going on in other countries such as the war in Vietnam or wars between other nations.

Yes, without the freedom of the press, we as citizens would be very ignorant of national and world conditions.

CHS Chooses Pumpkin Show Candidates

By TY ANKROM

Patty Arledge and Denise Chandler are representing CHS in the Miss Pumpkin Show contest this year.

PATTY ARLEDGE

DENISE CHANDLER

The Junior Class representative, Denise Chandler, resides with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James F. Chandler, at 650 Garden Parkway. Denise is new to CHS this year. She previously lived in Wichita, Kan.

Since Denise is new to Circleville, she says that she does not know anything about Pumpkin Show except what people have told her. Denise stated that she was "really surprised and excited" upon being elected to represent her class.

Patty Arledge, Senior Class representative, lives at 364 E. Union St., with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Arledge. In school, she is active in Senior SOS and GAA. "I was very happy and excited and will do my best to represent CHS in the contest," was Patty's reaction when she was chosen by her classmates.

The senior candidate is enrolled in the commercial course at CHS. After graduation, Patty plans to attend a business school.

Lower Voting Age Discussed

By VICKI RALSTON

The current controversy about lowering the voting age from 21 to 19 evoked these comments from students.

Pat Thomas: "I don't think 19 year olds should be able to vote. I don't believe, that on the average, they are quite sure about what they want, where they are going, or what is really important."

Beth Spire: "Kids drive at 16, pay adult prices at 12, are drafted at 18, considered adults in courts, and have their own charge accounts in their teen years, therefore, I believe they should have the privilege of voting at 19."

Gale McNeley: "I don't think the voting age should be changed from 21 to 19 because 21 is the supposed age of maturity. I think the youth would be more serious and ready to vote if they waited until after their teen-age years."

Vicki Ralston: "Through communication and education, the youth of today are more knowledgeable than the 21 year olds of yesteryear."

Two CHS teachers gave these comments. John Lawhorn: "In my opinion the voting age should be lowered to 19. It will get our young adults in the habit of voting responsibly and I agree with the popular opinion that if they are old enough to fight for their country, then they should be allowed the privilege of electing their representatives."

Wallace Higgins: "I think that immediately after completing high school or at 19, young adults know more about their government and current events than at any other time."

Folk Group New To CHS Music Dept.

By CRAIG DRESBACH

The "Cherished Folk," a singing group under the direction of William O'Neil, was started three weeks ago at CHS by Dale Hukill and Eileen England.

Try-outs for the group were held and five students were selected for the group as singers. They are Karl Neuding, Sandra Greene, Mary Housh, Eileen England, Dale Hukill. The two guitarists are the Karen Reed and Craig Dresbach.

After a big success at Kiwanis' presidents' meeting and at the CHS homecoming dance, they plan to play at Pumpkin Show and the Central Ohio Teacher's Association meeting Oct. 24 at Veteran's Memorial, Columbus.

Events Termed Big Success For Homecoming

By SHIRLEY FLAKER and GALE MCNELEY

Last week's homecoming events got underway on Thursday evening, with the first CHS snake dance in several years. Students assembled at the court house and paraded to the high school, led by the band and cheerleaders. People stood on their porches watching the "spirit spreaders" cheer and sing with enthusiasm.

Both reserve and varsity cheerleaders led the crowd in several cheers at the bonfire in the school parking lot. The band played the fight song and Alma Mater. Who said, "Everyone stays home when it rains?"

On Friday night Vicki Ralston was crowned queen at half-time. Her court consisted of senior attendant Barb Rheinscheld and Krista Clifton, junior attendant Kathy Dunkle and sophomore attendant Jill Bach.

After a winning game, the homecoming dance honoring Queen Vicki and her attendants was held in the gymnasium. Music was provided by Dave Workman and His Soul Ensemble. At 11 p.m. the Queen and her court were recognized by Dick Walters, Master of Ceremonies. The Cherished Folk, a newly formed folk group, presented three numbers. Immediately following their performance, the queen and court were honored by a dance.

Refreshments were provided by the GAA club. Vicki Schroeder, Tricia Brackett, Christy Dresbach and Crystil Wilson served as hostesses. They dressed in "Daisy Mae" fashion in keeping with the "L'il Abner" theme of the dance.

The entrance was decorated as the facade of a small village house with a banner which read "Welcome to Dog Patch." Walls inside the gym were decorated with cardboard characters from the "L'il Abner" comic strip. Two figures, Daisy Mae and L'il Abner, stood 24 feet high.

Much credit goes to Student Council, under the direction of Doris Gillespie, for organizing the highly successful homecoming events.

New Cheerleaders

Chosen At CJHS

By PENNY ARLEDGE and PAM CRABTREE

New seventh and eighth grade cheerleaders for the 1969-1970 school year were chosen recently.

The new cheerleaders are Ann Yeatts, Susan Estes, Debbie Eberly, Diane Berrigan, Cindy Sims and Sue Radabaugh. All are eighth graders except Sue Radabaugh, who is a seventh grader.

Last Thursday Senior Class officers chose three selections of announcements from Jostens. The class as a whole will vote on them Oct. 24.

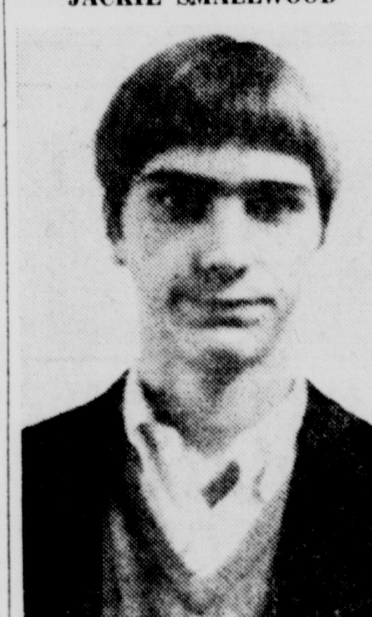

Smallwoods New To CHS

By KATHY GOEGLIN and CHARLIE JACKSON

Two new students at CHS this year are Jackie and Dean Smallwood. They reside at 495 Edwards Road with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Smallwood and their brother, Jeff, who is a freshman at Ohio State University.

JACKIE SMALLWOOD

DEAN SMALLWOOD

Although originally from Circleville, they have lived in a number of different places. They moved from Akron to Circleville this summer.

Jackie is a 15-year-old sophomore enrolled in the college prep course at CHS. She previously attended Litchfield Junior High School in Akron.

Jackie spends much of her time reading, watching football and basketball games, and listening to records. Her opinion of Circleville is, "It's all right, but it's not what I thought it would be. The kids are friendly, but the teachers are something else." After graduation she plans to attend college.

Dean, a 16-year-old junior, is enrolled in the college prep course and is active in Curtain Callers. He has also been selected for one of the lead parts in the Junior Class play.

Last year while attending Firestone High School in Akron, he was active in track, cross country and the senior class play.

When asked his opinion of CHS he said, "It is smaller than my last school, but I find the students are very friendly." At CHS he rates history and art as his favorite subjects. After graduation from high school, he plans to go to college and major in art.

Congratulations to 1969 graduate Holly Bach for being chosen Ohio University Homecoming attendant representing the Chillicothe branch.

DE Provides Job Training

By GINNY GILLIS

Distributive Education Club of America is a nationwide organization of clubs involved in the vocational training program of retailing, wholesaling and service selling occupations. It provides students with a co-op program in which they are taught all the skills of retailing in a two-year course.

Students are required to have one year of classroom distributive education before they can be placed on a job, called a training station. Many benefit from the experience while also making money. DECA has many fund raising projects. A Pumpkin Show booth is the largest money-making project of the club. Members start two to three weeks ahead of time to clean up booths and prepare large amounts of the famous "Pumpkin Burgers."

DECA students also attend the district conference held annually where officers from 12 clubs or chapters are chosen. Last year was the first time Circleville won both the position of president and secretary at the Officers' Leadership Conference. Another district convention involves students competing in various areas such as: job interviews, window display, business math, sweetheart and sales demonstrations.

First and second place winners represent their club in state competition, with first place officers going to the national conference.

Circleville DECA, composed of 116 members with Mrs. Alice Greenwood and Mr. Allen Shull, supervisors, work together to provide for a successful organization and to live up to the DECA motto, "Learn by Doing."

Report cards will be given out the Wednesday AFTER Pumpkin Show. Good thing — right?

Nine Girls Selected For High School Triple Trio

By DIANE MILLER, PENNY and PATTY ARLEDGE

Tryouts for the CHS Triple Trio were held recently with six seniors, one junior and two sophomores selected. New members are Sandy Greene, Mary Brown, Vanessa Hatfield, Cindy Barnhill, Eileen England, Mary Housh, Jan Clifton, Arlene Walters and Carol Garrett.

Eileen England, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman E. England resides with her parents at 230 Logan St. Eileen is a senior at CHS and has been chosen to sing first soprano in the triple trio. Her reaction when chosen was, "I was very happy and excited." A few of Eileen's activities include Curtin Callers, GAA and choir president.

Cindy Barnhill, a senior at CHS, resides with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Barnhill Jr. at 106 Park St. Cindy was chosen to sing first soprano in the triple trio. Her reaction when chosen was, "I was very excited and proud." A few of Cindy's activities include SOS, majorette, Student Council and 4-H.

Arlene Walters, the only junior selected, resides with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Walters at 132 W. Union St. Her reaction to being chosen was "I was really surprised!" She will sing first soprano. Her activities include band, homecoming committee and Junior Class play committee.

Sandy Greene, a senior, resides with her mother, Mrs. Margaret Greene at 716 Renick Road. Her reaction to being chosen was, "Of course I was very happy and proud." Sandy will sing second soprano. Some of Sandy's other activities include SOS, band, 4-H and The Cherished Folk.

When sophomore Vanessa Hatfield found out she was selected to sing second soprano for Triple Trio her reaction was, "I was really surprised because I didn't think I had a chance!" Vanessa resides with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Hatfield of 342 E. Mound St. Her activities include SOS, GAA, Student Council and Volunteers.

"I was surprised because competition was 'tuff'!" was the reaction of Mary Brown, senior, when she was chosen for Triple Trio. Mary resides with her mother, Mrs. Mina North, at 403 S. Scioto St. She will sing second soprano. Mary's other activities include SOS, DECA and secretary of choir.

Jan Clifton, a senior at CHS, resides with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Clifton, at 905 Circle Drive. Jan was chosen to sing alto in the Triple Trio. Her reaction when chosen was, "I was very excited and couldn't believe it." A few of Jan's activities include Student Council and flag bearer in the band.

Mary Housh, a senior, sings alto in Triple Trio this year. Mary lives at 471 Stella Ave. with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Housh. Mary's comment

News Staff Notes Rights And Freedoms

By RANDY HALLEY

The first amendment to the Constitution of the United States states that congress shall make no law prohibiting the free exercise of the press. Does this mean that a person can print anything that comes to his mind? No, he must be careful that what he prints is the truth.

Since 1946 one problem concerning freedom of the press has stirred up much controversy. At what point does criticism of the government and its policies become an effort to overthrow the government itself? The Supreme Court has said that when one's words clearly endanger public safety then freedom of the press can be limited.

Freedom of the press is truly one of the remarkable advantages of living in the United States. Without the freedom we would not be able to print what we believe and how we feel things can be bettered. The truth about some of our politicians and other men and women in high positions come out as a result of freedom of the press.

We also know what is going on in other countries such as the war in Vietnam or wars between other nations.

Yes, without the freedom of the press, we as citizens would be very ignorant of national and world conditions.

CHS Chooses Pumpkin Show Candidates

By TY ANKROM

Patty Arledge and Denise Chandler are representing CHS in the Miss Pumpkin Show contest this year.

PATTY ARLEDGE

DENISE CHANDLER

The Junior Class representative, Denise Chandler, resides with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James F. Chandler, at 650 Garden Parkway. Denise is new to CHS this year. She previously lived in Wichita, Kan.

Since Denise is new to Circleville, she says that she does not know anything about Pumpkin Show except what people have told her. Denise stated that she was "really surprised and excited" upon being elected to represent her class.

Patty Arledge, Senior Class representative, lives at 364 E. Union St., with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Arledge. In school, she is active in Senior SOS and GAA. "I was very happy and excited and will do my best to represent CHS in the contest," was Patty's reaction when she was chosen by her classmates.

The senior candidate is enrolled in the commercial course at CHS. After graduation, Patty plans to attend a business school.

Brent Liston: "Led by our cheerleaders and generated by the student council the spirit has really grown and it is not 'put-on' as in previous years. Many people think support is not needed to have a winning team, but when you're behind, the sounds of boisterous cheerleaders and an excited crowd sure helps."

Students Air Reactions To Dress Policy

By BETH SMITH and JUDY BROCK
CHS roving reporters asked students what they thought of the new dress policy established by the Student-Faculty Committee. Some of their reactions were:

Barbara Bost: "I like the new dress policy. I wish we could have had it last year. I hope that they will never change it."
Patricia Backett: "WOW I feel that Student Council did a great job. I really enjoy wearing comfortable clothes to school."
Steve Cassidy: "Well, if you ask me, I think it makes things look a lot better."
Sheila Clifton: "I think the new dress code is really neat. We have a better opportunity to wear new things that we have now."

Tracy Ferguson: "Thank Heaven! Now I can wear some of the new clothes I bought last year."

Phil Pike: "They are too strict on sideburns and long hair. Otherwise, I think it is all right."

Debbie Lowe: "It is great for the girls, but too hard on the guys."

Vicki Schroeder: "It is a slight improvement."

Kevin Miller: "The faculty is stricter this year on the type of shirts permitted and the length of sideburns."

Gail Sprenger: "It is a lot better than last year, but there is still a long way to go."

Pat Starkey: "It is the big step toward compromises between students and faculty."

Scott Withers: "If the girls get a change, so should the boys."

Plans Underway For Pumpkin Show

By PATTY ARLEDGE

CHS's 1969 Pumpkin Show plans are being completed by many students.

Senior SOS members will be working in the information booth, which is on the northwest corner of Court and Main Sts.

Stooge boys are having their booth which will be in its usual place on the northwest corner of Court and Main.

Curtain Callers are holding their first antique show at the Episcopal Parish House, 129 W. Mound St. The project will be open from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m., Oct. 17 and 18.

Key Club members will be quite busy working in the Kiwanis Pancake Booth the entire Pumpkin Show. This booth is located on the southeast corner of Court and Main Sts.

Deca I and II are planning to have two booths this year. One will be on N. Court St. and the other on West Main. DECA members are also working hard on their float.

CHS band members will be marching in every parade except Friday evening.

Choir Triple Trio and the Cherished Folk will entertain on the W. Main St. platform Wednesday evening.

Claim 'Era Of Christendom Is Over' In World

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — In external dimensions, Christianity is falling behind. American church membership is sagging. Attendance has slipped. Other signs of declining church influence have appeared, not only in this country but also abroad.

As many religious scholars see it, believers may become an ever smaller minority in the world.

The "era of Christendom is over," says the Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, general secretary of the World Council of Churches. "We are in a secularizing age, and the idea of the church dominating culture or dominating government has gone. This is complete."

However a new image of a "servant church"—that works simply for the causes of men's good rather than exerting power over their institutions—is emerging among many Christian thinkers as the vision of the church in times ahead.

In their view, it may be a "church in diaspora"—a scattered minority in society. The description initially was used by German Catholic theologian Karl Rahner, and has since been echoed by many others.

"The plain fact is this—Christians today are being outpaced, outdistanced, outbred," wrote the Rev. Canon Howard A. Johnson, an Episcopal theologian, after a world tour studying the status of Christianity.

"Unless counterforces are set in motion, it may be that proportionally, Christianity is doomed to shrink more and more and become a minority movement with diminishing capacity for influencing culture and history."

A United Nations report noted that Christians constituted a third of the world's population at the start of the century, but now are only 25 per cent, and continuation of that same downward trend would reduce this to 22 per cent by the century's end.

Bishop Odd Hagen, of Stockholm, Sweden, a leader in the World Methodist Council, has said a projection of the most recent figures indicate that "only 9 per cent of the world's population, by the year 2000, will call itself Christian."

Two years ago, the Rev. Dr. Robert McAfee Brown, a Presbyterian and professor of religion at Stanford University, predicted churches would lose "tremendous numbers" as they became involved in trying to relieve social problems.

"It is inevitable that people will leave," he said. "But it will be the salvation of the church."

Evidence has mounted that at least the first part of the prediction is occurring, since most major denominations in this country have slipped in membership growth in the last few years.

Over-all, the most recent statistics show that 63.2 per cent of the U.S. population now are church members, compared with 64.4 per cent the year before, near where it had hovered for three years, ending a long, steady climb.

Now, it has started down.

Students Air Reactions To Dress Policy

By BETH SMITH and JUDY BROCK
CHS roving reporters asked students what they thought of the new dress policy established by the Student-Faculty Committee. Some of their reactions were:

Barbara Bost: "I like the new dress policy. I wish we could have had it last year. I hope that they will never change it."
Patricia Baackett: "WOW I feel that Student Council did a great job. I really enjoy wearing comfortable clothes to school."
Steve Cassidy: "Well, if you ask me, I think it makes things look a lot better."
Sheila Clifton: "I think the new dress code is really neat. We have a better opportunity to wear new things that we have now."

Tracy Ferguson: "Thank Heaven! Now I can wear some of the new clothes I bought last year."

Phil Pike: "They are too strict on sideburns and long hair. Otherwise, I think it is all right."

Debbie Lowe: "It is great for the girls, but too hard on the guys."

Vicki Schroeder: "It is a slight improvement."

Kevin Miller: "The faculty is stricter this year on the type of shirts permitted and the length of sideburns."

Gail Sprenger: "It is a lot better than last year, but there is still a long way to go."

Pat Starkey: "It is the big step toward compromises between students and faculty."

Scott Withers: "If the girls get a change, so should the boys."

Red, Black Memories

Plans Underway For Pumpkin Show

By PATTY ARLEDGE
CHS's 1969 Pumpkin Show plans are being completed by many students.

Senior SOS members will be working in the information booth, which is on the northwest corner of Court and Main Sts.

Stooge boys are having their booth which will be in its usual place on the northwest corner of Court and Main.

Curtain Callers are holding their first antique show at the Episcopal Parish House, 129 W. Mount St. The project will be open from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m., Oct. 17 and 18.

Key Club members will be quite busy working in the Kiwanis Pancake Booth the entire Pumpkin Show. This booth is located on the southeast corner of Court and Main Sts.

Deca I and II are planning to have two booths this year. One will be on N. Court St. and the other on West Main. DECA members are also working hard on their float.

CHS band members will be marching in every parade except Friday evening.

Choir Triple Trio and the Cherished Folk will entertain on the W. Main St. platform Wednesday evening.

Claim 'Era Of Christendom Is Over' In World

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — In external dimensions, Christianity is falling behind. American church membership is sagging. Attendance has slipped. Other signs of declining church influence have appeared, not only in this country but also abroad. As many religious scholars see it, believers may become an ever smaller minority in the world.

The "era of Christendom is over," says the Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, general secretary of the World Council of Churches. "We are in a secularizing age, and the idea of the church dominating culture or dominating government has gone. This is complete."

However a new image of a "servant church"—that works simply for the causes of men's good rather than exerting power over their institutions—is emerging among many Christian thinkers as the vision of the church in times ahead.

In their view, it may be a "church in diaspora"—a scattered minority in society. The description initially was used by German Catholic theologian Karl Rahner, and has since been echoed by many others.

"The plain fact is this—Christians today are being outpaced, outdistanced, outbred," wrote the Rev. Canon Howard A. Johnson, an Episcopal theologian, after a world tour studying the status of Christianity.

"Unless counterforces are set in motion, it may be that proportionally, Christianity is doomed to shrink more and more and become a minority movement with diminishing capacity for influencing culture and history."

A United Nations report noted that Christians constituted a third of the world's population at the start of the century, but now are only 25 per cent, and continuation of that same downward trend would reduce this to 22 per cent by the century's end.

Bishop Odd Hagen, of Stockholm, Sweden, a leader in the World Methodist Council, has said a projection of the most recent figures indicate that "only 9 per cent of the world's population, by the year 2000, will call itself Christian."

Two years ago, the Rev. Dr. Robert McAfee Brown, a Presbyterian and professor of religion at Stanford University, predicted churches would lose "tremendous numbers" as they became involved in trying to relieve social problems.

"It is inevitable that people will leave," he said. "But it will be the salvation of the church."

Evidence has mounted that at least the first part of the prediction is occurring, since most major denominations in this country have slipped in membership growth in the last few years.

Over-all, the most recent statistics show that 63.2 per cent of the U.S. population now are church members, compared with 64.4 per cent the year before, near where it had hovered for three years, ending a long, steady climb.

Now, it has started down.

State Officials Rip Federal Stand On Unemployment Rise

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A Nixon's administration official's comment that unemployment may be good to halt inflation is drawing some nasty criticism from Gov. James A. Rhodes and his cabinet officials.

Rhodes, upon hearing that U. S. Treasury Secretary David Kennedy didn't think unemployment was all bad, told a newsman: "Ohio will not be a part of any program that considers even a small amount of unemployment as an acceptable situation."

Finance Director Howard Collier went a step further.

"I am convinced," said Collier, "that the federal government is so far out of it they don't know what is going on."

"It seems to make no difference whether it's a Democrat or Republican in Washington," he added.

"A Republican can be just as bad."

"They don't understand the problem," said Collier. "Their idea is wrong, never would work and never will work."

The solution to inflation he said is to get more people jobs and cut taxes as well as government expenditures.

"One of the reasons Ohio has the lowest taxes in the nation is because we are training people for jobs," he said.

Ohio's unemployment, he said is below the national average.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Her Girls Hate Their Stepfather

DEAR ABBY: My first husband died, leaving me with two daughters, ages 2 and 6. I stayed single for six years. We lived with my parents while I worked, so naturally the girls are spoiled rotten.

My problem: About a year ago I married a wonderful man who had never been married before. Abby, he couldn't be nicer to me and the girls, but they treat him shamefully. They say, "We don't have to listen to you — you aren't our REAL father." They can be sweet as pie to him when they want something, but after they get it, they go back to their hateful ways.

He has tried so hard to make them like him. I love this man, Abby, and I hate to see him hurt. What can I do?

NEEDS HELP

DEAR NEEDS: First, may I take exception to your statement, "We lived with my parents while I worked, so naturally the girls are spoiled rotten." Why, "naturally"? Many working mothers have instilled respect and discipline in their children, so don't blame your parents.

From what you say, your daughters are out of your control, so I advise professional counseling. Inquire of their school principal. Otherwise, face the alternatives. Your daughters will force you to choose between them and your good husband. Or your husband will find life with you and your daughters intolerable and HE will make a choice, and take a walk. And who could blame him?

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a salesman and he is out of town for a week at a time. He usually calls me twice during the week to find out how things are at home. I appreciate these calls, but I never know when to expect them.

This morning he called me at 7, raving mad. He said he had been trying to reach me since 6 o'clock last night, and was worried half out of his mind.

Last evening my neighbor and I took our children to the circus, after which we had coffee at her house and I stayed to visit for about an hour. Then I came right home and I went to bed. I must have slept so soundly I didn't even hear the phone ring.

Must I stay home every night in anticipation of my husband's calls? That's all we ever fight about.

GREAT FALLS WIFE

DEAR WIFE: First you and your husband should agree on a "time" when he is to call you. Then, ask your telephone company to provide you with the loudest bell they have. And it wouldn't be a bad idea to have your hearing checked.

DEAR ABBY: Last Sunday, while driving on a well-traveled freeway on the outskirts of town, I noticed two cars ahead of me. One was a new convertible containing three young girls. The other was a sedan in which five young men were riding. These kids were "racing," and passing each other at a high rate of speed, then slamming on the brakes and stopping abruptly in front of each other.

The girl was a very poor driver. She lost control of the car once, and went off the highway, but got back on again. The kids in both cars were laughing and shouting back and forth to each other.

Abby, a nightmarish accident involving not only these two

Abby, a nightmarish accident involving not only these two cars, but others could have occurred easily. I wanted to stop and phone the highway patrol but my wife told me to mind my own business. What would you have done?

STILL SHAKING

DEAR STILL: I would have told my wife that the safety of innocent motorists (and even the lives of those foolish kids) were indeed MY business, and I would have stopped and called the police.

Law Enforcement Grant Announced

IRONTON, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Law Enforcement Planning Agency has announced approval of a $22,900 grant to the Southern Ohio Council of Governments to help finance a law enforcement training program.

The funds will be used to upgrade police training in the counties of Adams, Brown, Clinton, Fayette, Highland, Lawrence, Pike, Ross and Scioto.

Notice is hereby given that in pursuance of resolutions of the Board of Commissioners of Pickaway County adopted on the 14th day of July and the 4th day of August, 1969, there will be submitted to a vote of the electors of said county at the general election to be held in the County at the regular places of voting on Tuesday, the 4th day of November, 1969, the question of issuing bonds of said county in the principal amount of $518,000 for the purpose of constructing a training center for the mentally retarded, providing sewage disposal and water supply facilities and necessary furnishings and equipment therefor and making required site improvements.

The maximum number of years during which such bonds are to run is ten years.

The estimated average additional rate outside of the ten mill limitation as certified by the County Auditor is .43 mill for each one dollar of valuation, which amounts to 4.3 cents for each one hundred dollars of valuation.

The polls for said election will be open at 6:30 a.m. and will remain open until 6:30 p.m., Eastern Standard Time, of said day.

By order of the Board of Elections of Pickaway County, Ohio.

Ohio State Bids For 17th Victory In MSU Clash

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press—Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State bids to extend the nation's longest winning streak to 17 Saturday when it entertains rugged Michigan State in the Big Ten football opener for both schools.

The Buckeyes are prohibitive 19-point favorites to nail down a triumph and enhance their No. 1 ranking before more than 86,000 fans in Ohio Stadium. If they do, they'll equal a school record that was established over a three-season span, 1915-1917.

Coach Woody Hayes eyes the challenging visitors with nothing but respect. "They gave us a good game last year and we expect the same again," he said.

Coach Duffy Daugherty's team extended the Bucks before bowing 25-20 a year ago. Before the season began, this clash was billed in some quarters as the game of the year.

But Michigan State, after winning its first two, suffered a 42-28 trouncing at the hands of Notre Dame last Saturday which tarnished the Spartans' image. Still, the visitors have the talent to make things interesting for Ohio's wrecking crew, which has scored 103 points in its first two victories.

Ohio will be looking at a triple option offense for the second straight week but had little trouble disposing of Washington, 41-14, last Saturday.

The Spartans opened with a 27-11 decision over the Huskies but needed a 20-point explosion in the fourth quarter to prevail. They whipped MSU before losing to Notre Dame.

The Bucks' devastating attack has rolled up 692 yards on the ground and 375 via passing while Michigan State shows 707 yards rushing and 266 passing in one more game.

Brilliant Rex Kern, held out of workouts this week because of a muscle pull in the leg, will be ready. He is the Bucks No. 2 rusher with 217 yards in 39 carries, only 15 yards behind workhorse fullback Jim Otis, who leads the club with five touchdowns.

Old Hand Picker Picks Pro Tilts

By JACK HAND
BALTIMORE (AP) — The Mets and Orioles have chased the Colts into a Monday night game and moved the Jets' game to Cincinnati so please excuse if we wind up with Tom Seaver throwing touchdown passes and John Unitas hitting home runs.

In the confusion of last weekend, the old hand picker wound up with 9-2-2 for the day missing out on the Giants and Browns. Let's try it again. The games are spread from Saturday to Monday so watch the dates. All games Sunday unless otherwise noted:

NFL
Minnesota 23, Chicago 17 — Vikings are rousing up everybody with that tough front four but they blew two to Chicago last year and this is Bears' home opener after seeing plenty of trouble on the road. Another one of those rugged defensive rumbles with field goals probably deciding.

New York 28, Pittsburgh 21 — Giants are tough to chart. Up one week down the next. They're coming off an up week so reaction may set in. Steelers' vulnerable to the bomb and Fran Tarkenton can light the fuse. Injury to Dick Shiner may bring in Kent Nix as Steeler quarterback. Loss to Steelers in Sept. 11 exhibition, 17-13, cost Albie Sherman his job.

Washington 24, St. Louis 21 — Cards lead league in smearing the passer but Sonny Jurgensen is tough to catch. Skins' offense has more punch. First home game for Vince Lombardi's Redskins after 1-1-1 record on road.

Cleveland 28, New Orleans 17 — Lions ambushed Browns last week but Saints never have beaten Cleveland. With Leroy Kelly back in action and Ron Johnson rining up the sod, Browns should roll on the ground.

Dallas 24, Atlanta 10 — Falcons gave Colts a good fight last week but those Cowboys are beginning to click on all cylinders with Craig Morton at the controls and Calvin Hill leading the rushers.

Detroit 17, Green Bay 14 — A big one in the Central Division where Lions are showing their muscle after losing opener to Pittsburgh. Lions will pressure Bart Starr but will find Packer defense tough to crack. Another that could be won by a field goal.

Los Angeles 23, San Francisco 14, Rams won and tied in 1968 games with 49ers and also took Sept. 13 exhibition at Anaheim, 31-28. This always a blood game and could be bitter with 49ers winless in three starts playing before home folks. — Baltimore 31, Philadelphia 21 (Monday night) Game switched to Monday night because of World Series. Eagles showing good attack but can't stop anybody. Colts' defense shoddy so far. John Unitas should make the difference.

AFL
Buffalo 21, Boston 10 (Saturday night) Bills have won only one and Pats are 0-4. Something has to give. O.J. Simpson could run wild against Boston defense that has given up 16 touchdowns. However, Pats won both games in 1968.

New York 27, Cincinnati 21 (Saturday night) Bengals ran into first defeat last week against San Diego and will find Jets' defense even tougher to crack. Greg Cook's return a lift for Cincy but Joe Namath gets protection and Cook doesn't. Game transferred from New York due to World Series.

San Diego 21, Miami 21 (Saturday night) Brad Hubbard and Dick Post form impressive Charger rushing combo. Bob Griese can find holes in San Diego's secondary in a game that could be closer than expected.

Kansas City 20, Houston 17. Chiefs finally open at home against rough Oiler defense which will test Mike Livingston. Hank Stram has more offense and Jan Stenerud to kick against Roy Gerela.

Oakland 24, Denver 21. Something still missing in Raiders despite 3-0-1 record for four starts. Broncos 13 touchdowns to the league but leaky defense kills them. Raiders won both games last year, 43-7 and 23-27 and owns 13-4-1 edge in series.

Teays Valley Has Baseball Party
The Teays Valley Youth Baseball League will sponsor a games party at Ashville Shelter House, Saturday, starting at 8 p.m. The league has ambitions to buy new pants for the mosquito and little league next year. Proceeds from the games party will go towards the purchase of these pants. The public is invited to patronize the booth at the Circleville Pumpkin Show this year. It will be located on West Main Street. Anyone wishing to contribute pumpkin pies should bring them to the booth.

Shankland Winner
GREENWICH, Conn. (AP) — Craig Shankland, an Oceanside, N.Y., pro, won the Metropolitan PGA Golf Championship Thursday with a 146 for the final 36 holes and a 72-hole total of 293.

Mets And Orioles To Open World Series Saturday

BALTIMORE (AP) — The New York Mets have arrived in Baltimore, carrying with them the Tom Seaver-Jerry Koosman pitching payroll that will have to stop the Orioles' booming bats when the World Series opens at Memorial Stadium Saturday.

It'll be Seaver, the Mets' 25-game winner, against Mike Cuellar, the Orioles' 23-game winner, in the opener of the best-of-seven series which carries with it the biggest prize in World Series history—$15,000 to each member of the winning team.

The battle for that prize at the end of baseball's 100th anniversary season commences at 1 p.m. EDT, before an anticipated sellout crowd of 53,000 and a national television audience that will watch the proceedings via NBC.

The proceedings, in the eyes of Koosman, likely will be different than they were in the National League playoffs against Atlanta when neither of the two Met aces were able to finish what they started.

"I see no reason why we should have the same trouble,"

Don Hoak dies; Cause Believed Heart Attack

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Don Hoak was an ex-Marine who enjoyed a good fight on or off the field. Managing or playing baseball, he was "The Tiger" as his friends called him.

The 41-year-old Hoak died Thursday evening, just three hours after the Pittsburgh Pirates named Danny Murtaugh to the managing post Hoak admitted he wanted badly.

In 10 major league seasons as a third baseman, Hoak played on two pennant winners. In 1960 he was the sparkplug of the World Champion Pirates.

Hoak was just a substitute with the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1955 but in the World Series seventh game Hoak was at third base, substituting for the injured Jackie Robinson.

"Hoak won't scare out," Dodger Manager Walter Alston said at that time.

Hoak was found slumped over the steering wheel of his car after chasing his brother-in-law's car which was allegedly stolen. But a physician saw him pull over to the side of the road and collapse. He was dead of a heart attack on arrival at a Pittsburgh hospital.

Just Wednesday night Hoak said on a television broadcast he was the man for the Pirate job.

"I'm the man for the job, I don't know if I (General Manager Joe L. Brown) has picked the man yet, but I'm the man."

Thursday morning Hoak said he was sure he wouldn't get the job and indicated he might not manage the Columbus team next season. His Jets came in second in the International League this year.

But Brown, at the news conference announcing Murtaugh's appointment, said "The man who managed Columbus last year can have the job this year if he wants it, rumors to the contrary."

Westfall Mustangs Finish Second
Westfall High School's cross country team finished second in a triangular meet with Circleville and Adena on the Mustang's course.

Circleville was the winner with 27 points, followed by Westfall with 35 and Adena had 65 points.

said Koosman. "We'll probably both go out and throw shutouts."

That, it would seem, would be a difficult task against a line-up that includes the Robinson boys—Frank and Brooks—and big Boog Powell, but the Mets may have a secret weapon in Manager Gil Hodges.

"Gil knows that team—he managed in that league," Seaver pointed out, noting Hodges' years at Washington. "He knows the hitters and their strengths and we'll rely on his judgement at least until we feel we have enough knowledge to do anything different."

Some of his knowledge was imparted by Hodges today after the Mets' first workout at Memorial Stadium. The Mets flew in Thursday night, then got their first look at the field after the Orioles had concluded their morning workout.

The Orioles, who whipped Minnesota in three straight to move through the American League playoffs and into the Series, will go with the same line-up they used against the Twins. But the Mets are changing to their right-handed hitting line-up with Cuellar pitching.

That batting order puts Ron Swoboda in right field in place of Art Shamsky, who hit .538 against the Braves; sends Al Weis to second base to replace Ken Boswell, who hit two homers in the playoffs; substitutes veteran Ed Charles for rookie Wayne Garrett at third base, and puts Donn Clendenon on first instead of Ed Kranepool.

Hodges said he might leave Boswell in against the Orioles' scheduled second starter, Dave McNally. Baltimore's third game pitcher against Gary Gentry likely will be Jim Palmer when the team's shift to New York and resume action Tuesday.

Monday will be an off day for travel. All games will start at 1 p.m., EDT, except for Sunday's second game at Baltimore, which has a 2 p.m. start.

While the Mets are undoubtedly the sentimental favorites throughout most of the country because of their sudden rise after so many years of ineptitude, the Orioles have been installed as the favorites for their first World Series since 1966.

In that one, the Orioles were the underdogs, but went on to whip the Los Angeles Dodgers in four straight with many of the same stars who this season helped produce 109 victories as Baltimore raced to the American League East title.

The biggest guns are mounted by Frank Robinson and Boog Powell. Robinson hit .308 during the regular season with 32 homers and 100 runs batted in. Powell lashed 37 homers and drove in 121 runs while hitting .304.

Over-all, the Orioles hit .265 as a team compared to .242 for the Mets and out-homered them, 175-169. At the same time, the Orioles' pitching staff, which has not received publicity equal to the Mets', put together a 2.83 earned run average by comparison with New York's 2.99.

Robinson has noted those figures and says, "I think it will be a good Series." Then he adds pointedly, "But no more than five or six games."

"It's hard to believe that the Mets will hit our pitchers as hard as they did the Braves in

'Sparky' Anderson Thinks Reds Can Go All The Way

CINCINNATI (AP) George "Sparky" Anderson, new manager of the Reds, and, until his appointment Thursday, a comparative unknown, compared himself to Baltimore Orioles Manager Earl Weaver.

Weaver, also an unknown until his appointment two years ago, is in the World Series this year.

"Earl said he was very fortunate to inherit a club with as much talent as the Orioles have," Anderson told a news conference Thursday.

"Well, I feel very, very fortunate."

"There are four or five great talent clubs in baseball. This club has to be considered being right there."

Anderson said he believes in running his pitchers and running them hard. If in condition they can last the year out, he said.

"We hope to win the pennant like we hope to win it every year in baseball," said Howsam.

"I will be fair to Sparky, just as I believe I was fair to Dave Bristol. I gave Dave a two-year contract so he would have no worry about his job. All he had to do was pay attention to the game."

The 35-year-old Anderson received a one-year contract. His salary was not disclosed. Anderson played as an infielder with Los Angeles in 1958 and was traded to Philadelphia in 1959. After playing four years in Toronto he was named manager in 1964. In 1965 he managed Rock Hill, St. Petersburg in 1966, Modesto in 1967 and Asheville, 1968.

In 1969 he was a coach at San Diego and had already signed on as a coach with the California Angels when he was hired by the Reds.

WESTBURY, N. Y. (AP) — Lindy's Pride, the Crown Prince of trotting, is expected to ascend to the throne at Roosevelt Raceway tonight.

All the 3-year-old colts has to do is to pull driver Howard Beissinger twice around the half-mile oval and finish first in the $175,955 Dexter Cup Trot to be acclaimed as the successor to Nevele Pride.

Nevele Pride abdicated, so to speak, when he was retired for breeding purposes Thursday.

Ohio State Bids For 17th Victory In MSU Clash

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press — Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State bids to extend the nation's longest winning streak to 17 Saturday when it enters rugged Michigan State in the Big Ten football opener for both schools.

The Buckeyes are prohibitive 19-point favorites to nail down a triumph and enhance their No. 1 ranking before more than 86,000 fans in Ohio Stadium. If they do, they'll equal a school record that was established over a three-season span, 1915-1917.

Coach Woody Hayes eyes the challenging visitors with nothing but respect. "They gave us a good game last year and we expect the same again," he said.

Coach Duffy Daugherty's team extended the Bucks before bowing 25-20 a year ago. Before the season began, this clash was billed in some quarters as the game of the year.

Ohio will be looking at a triple option offense for the second straight week but had little trouble disposing of Washington, 41-14, last Saturday.

The Spartans opened with a 27-11 decision over the Huskies but needed a 20-point explosion in the fourth quarter to prevail. They whipped SMU before losing to Notre Dame.

The Bucks' devastating attack has rolled up 692 yards on the ground and 375 via passing while Michigan State shows 707 yards rushing and 266 passing in one more game.

Brilliant Rex Kern, held out of workouts this week because of a muscle pull in the leg, will be ready. He is the Bucks No. 2 rusher with 217 yards in 30 carries, only 15 yards from working horse fullback Jim Otis, who leads the club with five touchdowns.

Dallas 24, Atlanta 10 — Falcons gave Colts a good fight last week but those Cowboys are beginning to click on all cylinders with Craig Morton at the controls and Calvin Hill leading the rushers.

Detroit 17, Green Bay 14 — A big one in the Central Division where Lions are showing their muscle after losing opener to Pittsburgh. Lions will pressure Bart Starr but will find Packer defense tough to crack. Another that could be won by a field goal.

Los Angeles 23, San Francisco 14 — Rams won and tied in 1968 games with 49ers and also took Sept. 13 exhibition at Anaheim, 31-28. This always a blood game and could be bitter with 49ers winless in three starts playing before home folks. — Baltimore 31, Philadelphia 21 (Monday night) Game switched to Monday night because of World Series. Eagles showing good attack but can't stop anybody. Colts' defense should make the difference.

AFL
Buffalo 21, Boston 10 (Saturday night) Bills have won only one and Pats are 0-4. Something has to give. O.J. Simpson could run wild against Boston defense that has given up 16 touchdowns. However, Pats won both games in 1968.

New York 27, Cincinnati 21 (Saturday night) Bengals ran into first defeat last week against San Diego and will find Jets' defense even tougher to crack. Greg Cook's return a lift for Cincy but Joe Namath gets protection and Cook doesn't. Game transferred from New York due to World Series.

San Diego 21, Miami 21 (Saturday night) Brad Hubbard and Dick Post form impressive Charger rushing combo. Bob Griese can find holes in San Diego's secondary in a game that could be closer than expected.

Kansas City 20, Houston 17. Chiefs finally open at home against rough Oiler defense which will test Mike Livingston. Hank Stram has more offense and Jan Stenerud to kick against Roy Gerela.

Oakland 24, Denver 21. Something still missing in Raiders despite 3-0-1 record for four starts. Broncos 13 touchdowns to the league but leaky defense kills them. Raiders won both games last year, 43-7 and 23-27 and owns 13-4-1 edge in series.

Teays Valley Has Baseball Party

The Teays Valley Youth Baseball League will sponsor a game party at Ashville Shelter House, Saturday, starting at 8 p.m. The league has ambitions to buy new pants for the mosquito and little league next year. Proceeds from the games party will go towards the purchase of these pants. The public is invited to patronize the booth at the Circleville Pumpkin Show this year. It will be located on West Main Street. Anyone wishing to contribute pumpkin pins should bring them to the booth.

GREENWICH, Conn. (AP) — Craig Shankland, an Oceanside, N.Y., pro, won the Metropolitan PGA Golf Championship Thursday with a 146 for the final 36 holes and a 72-hole total of 293.

Mets And Orioles To Open World Series Saturday

BALTIMORE (AP) — The New York Mets have arrived in Baltimore, carrying with them the Tom Seaver-Jerry Koosman pitching payload that will have to stop the Orioles' booming bats when the World Series opens at Memorial Stadium Saturday.

It'll be Seaver, the Mets' 25-game winner, against Mike Cuellar, the Orioles' 23-game winner, in the opener of the best-of-seven series which carries with it the biggest prize in World Series history—$15,000 to each member of the winning team.

The battle for that prize at the end of baseball's 100th anniversary season commences at 1 p.m. EDT, before an anticipated sellout crowd of 53,000 and a national television audience that will watch the proceedings via NBC.

The proceedings, in the eyes of Koosman, likely will be different than they were in the National League playoffs against Atlanta when neither of the two Met aces were able to finish what they started.

"I see no reason why we should have the same trouble,"

Don Hoak Dies; Cause Believed Heart Attack

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Don Hoak was an ex-Marine who enjoyed a good fight on or off the field. Managing or playing baseball, he was "The Tiger" as his friends called him.

The 41-year-old Hoak died Thursday evening, just three hours after the Pittsburgh Pirates named Danny Murtaugh to the managing post Hoak admitted he wanted badly.

In 10 major league seasons as a third baseman, Hoak played on two pennant winners. In 1960 he was the sparkplug of the World Champion Pirates. Hoak was just a substitute with the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1955 but in the World Series seventh game Hoak was at third base, substituting for the injured Jackie Robinson.

"Hoak won't scare out," Dodger Manager Walter Alton said at that time.

Hoak was found slumped over the steering wheel of his car after chasing his brother-in-law's car which was allegedly stolen. But a physician saw him pull over to the side of the road and collapse. He was dead of a heart attack on arrival at a Pittsburgh hospital.

Just Wednesday night Hoak said on a television broadcast he was the man for the Pirate job.

"I'm the man for the job. I don't know if he (General Manager Joe L. Brown) has picked the man yet, but I'm the man." Thursday morning Hoak said he was sure he wouldn't get the job and indicated he might not manage the Columbus team next season. His Jets came in second in the International League this year.

But Brown, at the news conference announcing Murtaugh's appointment, said "The man who managed Columbus last year can have the job this year if he wants it, rumors to the contrary."

Westfall Mustangs Finish Second

Westfall High School's cross country team finished second in a triangular meet with Circleville and Adena on the Mustangs' course.

Circleville was the winner with 27 points, followed by Westfall with 35 and Adena had 65 points.

said Koosman. "We'll probably both go out and throw shut-outs."

That, it would seem, would be a difficult task against a line-up that includes the Robinson boys — Frank and Brooks—and big Boog Powell, but the Mets may have a secret weapon in Manager Gil Hodges.

"Gil knows that team—he

'Sparky' Anderson Thinks Reds Can Go All The Way

CINCINNATI (AP) — George "Sparky" Anderson, new manager of the Reds, and, until his appointment Thursday, a comparative unknown, compared himself to Baltimore Orioles Manager Earl Weaver.

Weaver, also an unknown until his appointment two years ago, is in the World Series this year.

"Earl said he was very fortunate to inherit a club with as much talent as the Orioles have," Anderson told a news conference Thursday.

"Well, I feel very, very fortunate."

"There are four or five great talent clubs in baseball. This club has to be considered being right there."

QUESTIONS

1—Who is supposed to have inherited baseball?
2—The all-time record crowd for a college football game on the campus is held by what team?

3—Who won the home run title for the Giants the most times, Mel Ott or Willie Mays?
HOOHEE?

HE WAS a quarterback at Miami U. (Ohio), turned to high school coaching and then moved on to a college and then a pro job, before retiring. He's back in the news today.

ANSWERS
1—The team has had the team four times.
2—Mel Ott, five times; Mays 103,224, set in 1939.
3—Mel Ott, 54; Mays 182.
4—Mills, 1954.

See Lindy's Pride As Trotting King

WESTBURY, N. Y. (AP) — Lindy's Pride, the Crown Prince of trotting, is expected to ascend to the throne at Roosevelt Raceway tonight.

All the 3-year-old colts has to do is to pull driver Howard Beissinger twice around the half-mile oval and finish first in the $175,955 Dexter Cup Trot to be acclaimed as the successor to Nevele Pride.

Nevele Pride abdicated, so to speak, when he was retired for breeding purposes Thursday.

Hockey Changes Made By Vancouver

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — The Vancouver Canucks of the Western Hockey League have purchased defenseman Howie Young from the Portland Buckaroos of the WHL.

A club spokesman said Thursday night that Young was expected to report to the Canucks today, but he will not play immediately.

Young was sold by the parent Chicago Black Hawks of the National Hockey League two weeks ago, but refused to report. He had played with the Black Hawks and the Detroit Red Wings in the NHL.

Tourney Postponed

SAN JUAN (AP) — The start of the Puerto Rico International Masters Chess Tournament was postponed from Thursday to today because of the absence of grand masters Bobby Fischer of New York and Antonio Medina of Spain.

managed in that league," Seaver pointed out, noting Hodges' years at Washington. "He knows the hitters and their strengths and we'll rely on his judgement at least until we feel we have enough knowledge to do anything different."

Some of his knowledge was imparted by Hodges today after the Mets' first workout at Memorial Stadium. The Mets flew in Thursday night, then got their first look at the field after the Orioles had concluded their morning workout.

The Orioles, who whipped Minnesota in three straight to move through the American League playoffs and into the Series, will go with the same line-up they used against the Twins. But the Mets are changing to their right-handed hitting line-up with Cuellar pitching.

That batting order puts Ron Swoboda in right field in place of Art Shamsky, who hit .538 against the Braves; sends Al Weis to second base to replace Ken Boswell, who hit two homers in the playoffs; substitutes veteran Ed Charles for rookie Wayne Garrett at third base, and puts Donn Clendenon on first instead of Ed Kranepool.

Hodges said he might leave Boswell in against the Orioles' scheduled second starter, Dave McNally. Baltimore's third game pitcher against Gary Gentry likely will be Jim Palmer when the team's shift to New York and resume action Tuesday.

Monday will be an off day for travel. All games will start at 1 p.m., EDT, except for Sunday's second game at Baltimore, which has a 2 p.m. start.

While the Mets are undoubtedly the sentimental favorites throughout most of the country because of their sudden rise after so many years of ineptitude, the Orioles have been installed as the favorites for their first World Series since 1966.

In that one, the Orioles were the underdogs, but went on to whip the Los Angeles Dodgers in four straight with many of the same stars who this season helped produce 109 victories as Baltimore raced to the American League East title.

The biggest guns are mounted by Frank Robinson and Boog Powell. Robinson hit .308 during the regular season with 32 homers and 100 runs batted in. Powell lashed 37 homers and drove in 121 runs while hitting .304.

Over-all, the Orioles hit .265 as a team compared to .242 for the Mets and out-homered them, 175-109. At the same time, the Orioles' pitching staff, which has not received publicity equal to the Mets', put together a 2.83 earned run average by comparison with New York's 2.99.

Robinson has noted those figures and says, "I think it will be a good Series." Then he adds pointedly, "But no more than five or six games."

"It's hard to believe that the Mets will hit our pitchers as hard as they did the Braves in the playoffs. In fact, there's no way they can. As for their pitchers, Seaver and Koosman could be tough, but I don't think our hitters will be held in check."

The Series this year closes the season on two-league, four-division system that forced the Mets and the Orioles to move through league playoffs before reaching the final best-of-seven series that will crown a champion.

But by moving through the playoffs, they have guaranteed themselves a minimum losing share of $10,000. The $10,000 to the losers and the minimum $15,000 to the winners are guaranteed—the first time they have not been based on gate receipts.

When the teams return to New York, they will play at Shea Stadium Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, if necessary. If no decision has been reached by then, Friday will be a day off and they will return to Baltimore for games six and seven.

Anderson's appointment was announced by Reds General Manager Bob Howsam following the firing of Dave Bristol Wednesday. Weak in the pitching department, the Reds finished four games behind the National League Western Division leader Atlanta Braves.

Howsam gave five reasons for hiring Anderson, who had managed four minor league teams for Howsam in both the St. Louis and Cincinnati organizations.

"He's a winner type; he's capable as a baseball man; he has good ability in communicating with players; he knows fundamentals and works to get a club to execute them; and he's a fine conditioner and handler of pitchers."

Anderson said he believes in running his pitchers and running them hard. If in condition they can last the year out, he said.

"We hope to win the pennant like we hope to win it every year in baseball," said Howsam.

"I will be fair to Sparky, just as I believe I was fair to Dave Bristol. I gave Dave a two-year contract so he would have no worry about his job. All he had to do was pay attention to the game."

The 35-year-old Anderson received a one-year contract. His salary was not disclosed.

Anderson played as an infielder with Los Angeles in 1958 and was traded to Philadelphia in 1959. After playing four years in Toronto he was named manager in 1964. In 1965 he managed Rock Hill, St. Petersburg in 1966, Modesto in 1967 and Asheville, 1968.

In 1969 he was a coach at San Diego and had already signed on as a coach with the California Angels when he was hired by the Reds.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Showers and thunderstorms spread over portions of the Pacific Coast, the north central states and the Midwest today.

Fair skies prevailed over the southwestern and northeastern sections of the nation.

Cold air movements developed into storms in the north central section and the Midwest, with fairly heavy thundershowers reported in some parts of the Midwest.

Tropical storm Kara, while hundreds of miles off the Florida coast, prompted the weather bureau to issue small craft warnings from the northeastern Florida coast to Cape Hatteras, N.C.

Temperatures in the early morning ranged from 33 at Butte, Mont., to 82 at the Corpus Christi Naval Air Station in Texas.

Two more visits of the Bloodmobile are scheduled for Pickaway County this year. The next visit is November 13.

Ernest C. Ware could not post a $10,000 bond after he was charged with making threats Nov. 27 against the life of then-President Lyndon B. Johnson, President-elect Richard M. Nixon and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

After a jury of seven women and five men found him innocent, Ware said he was not bitter but "just happy at the verdict."

Ware was accused of making the threats during a telephone conversation with the FBI to inquire about the death early in 1968 of his brother in the Tennessee State Prison in Nashville.

Public Defender Edward F. Marek said Ware's brother was found bound, gagged, and strangled in a prison cell. Marek said Ware was distressed over his brother's death, under the influence of alcohol, and had no recollection of making the threats.

Draft Laws Explained

EDITOR'S NOTE: In an effort to create a greater public understanding of the laws and regulations governing the induction of personnel into the Armed Forces, the Selective Service System has prepared a series of pertinent questions and corresponding responses concerning provisions of the draft law. Here is another in the series.

Q — I have been informed that my appeal for an occupational deferment was denied. Is this the final verdict, or is there any other action I can take to get a deferment?

A — Check your Notice of Classification (SSS Form 110). If the vote on your classification was not unanimous by the appeal board members, you have a right to appeal to the President. Such action can be taken by your filing a written request therefor with your local board within 30 days after the mailing of the Form 110 to you.

Q — My classification is now I-A and I want to appeal. I want to see the government appeal agent, but I work at night. Can I get his phone number and business address so I can get in touch with him?

A — If you will contact the executive secretary of the local board and request an interview with the government appeal agent, she will attempt to arrange a meeting for you. The name of your government appeal agent is posted at the local board.

Q — I am a college student with a II-S deferment. If I should enlist in the Army Reserve, will I retain my student deferment?

A — When your local board receives evidence that you have enlisted, you will then be reclassified for Class II-S to Class I - D (member of a Reserve component).

Man Freed; Made Threats

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A 51-year-old Cleveland decorator who spent 10 months in jail for threatening the lives of three national figures was released by a federal jury Thursday after 40 minutes deliberation.

Ernest C. Ware could not post a $10,000 bond after he was charged with making threats Nov. 27 against the life of then-President Lyndon B. Johnson, President-elect Richard M. Nixon and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

After a jury of seven women and five men found him innocent, Ware said he was not bitter but "just happy at the verdict."

Tingler Guilty; Death Sentence Passed By Judge

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The jury trying Richard Lee Tingler Jr. for first-degree murder found him guilty today without a recommendation for mercy.

Common Pleas Judge Henry L. Holden then sentenced him to the electric chair Jan. 26, 1970.

Tingler had been charged with four counts of first degree murder — two of murder while perpetrating a robbery, and two of pre-meditated murder in the slaying of two teen-age employees of a Lawson Milk Co. store on Columbus' South Side.

The jury of eight women and four men deliberated about eight hours Thursday before recessing for the night, then resumed deliberations at 9 a.m. today.

In addition to the murder charges, Tingler also was tried at the same time, and convicted, of robbery, and assault to kill another store employee.

Tingler, 28, was charged with four counts of first-degree murder in the execution-style slayings of Susan Pack, 18, and James Stevens, 14, both employees of a South Side dairy store, that was robbed Oct. 20, 1968.

He also was tried on charges of armed robbery and assault with intent to kill Phyllis Crow, 34, night manager of the store.

In his final summation, Prosecutor C. Howard Johnson demanded the death penalty for Tingler, calling him a "cold, calculating killer."

He asked the jury to "show this man the same mercy he showed those two children."

Johnson noted that Mrs. Crow had identified Tingler as the murderer.

Mrs. Crow also had been bound, gagged and beaten, had had a wire coat hanger twisted around the neck and presumably was left for dead by the holdup man.

Defense attorney Joseph H. Hans, in his final remarks, called Tingler a "sacrificial lamb" and said the state had presented "desperation" witnesses.

Hans said two Oklahoma City FBI agents who testified for the state "came in here in a desperate attempt to pull the switch on the electric chair." He accused the agents of "trumping up" a confession against Tingler.

Tingler, who was on the FBI's "most wanted" list, was arrested by the agents, Robert Harvey and Eugene York, near Dill City, Okla., last May.

Sohio To End Giveaway Game

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Other oil companies reportedly plan to follow the lead taken by Standard Oil Co. (Ohio) which Thursday announced that its bonanza prize game at service stations has ended.

A Sohio spokesman said winning tickets for the game began Aug. 2 could be redeemed through Wednesday. He said the game ended Oct. 2, but some stations still have game cards they are handing out. He gave no reason for ending the game.

Ariane Sheppard Awarded Alimony From Dr. Sam

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The former wife of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard was awarded $300 a month alimony Thursday by Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Judge John L. Maxwell, who divorced the couple Tuesday.

Judge Maxwell also ordered Dr. Sheppard to pay $2,000 in attorney fees for Ariane Sheppard, who had charged the osteopath with gross neglect.

The two were married in Chicago on July 18, 1964, two days after a federal court order freed Sheppard from the Ohio Penitentiary. He had served nearly 10 years of a life sentence on conviction of second-degree murder in the bludgeoning slaying of his first wife, Marilyn in 1954.

Dr. Sheppard was acquitted in a second trial in November, 1966. He is now practicing in Columbus.

Tax Vote Is Approved

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Franklin County residents will be permitted to vote on a proposed one-half per cent piggy-back sales tax as the result of an Ohio Supreme Court ruling announced Thursday.

The court denied a writ sought by a Columbus minister who contended such a referendum question was in violation of the state constitution.

The Rev. Nathan H. Vanderwerf, executive director of the Metropolitan Area Church Board, said the constitution states that "laws providing for tax levies . . . shall not be subject to the referendum."

But the court held that this section concerns laws enacted by the General Assembly and contains no prohibition against a referendum on a local issue.

Franklin County commissioners at first approved the new tax but later voted to place the question on the Nov. 4 general election ballot after a petition campaign by an automobile dealers association.

Draft Laws Explained

EDITOR'S NOTE: In an effort to create a greater public understanding of the laws and regulations governing the induction of personnel into the Armed Forces, the Selective Service System has prepared a series of pertinent questions and corresponding responses concerning provisions of the draft law. Here is another in the series.

Q — I have been informed that my appeal for an occupational deferment was denied. Is this the final verdict, or is there any other action I can take to get a deferment?

A — Check your Notice of Classification (SSS Form 110). If the vote on your classification was not unanimous by the appeal board members, you have a right to appeal to the President. Such action can be taken by your filing a written request therefore with your local board within 30 days after the mailing of the Form 110 to you.

Q — My classification is now I-A and I want to appeal. I want to see the government appeal agent, but I work at night. Can I get his phone number and business address so I can get in touch with him?

A — If you will contact the executive secretary of the local board and request an interview with the government appeal agent, she will attempt to arrange a meeting for you. The name of your government appeal agent is posted at the local board.

Q — I am a college student with a II-S deferment. If I should enlist in the Army Reserve, will I retain my student deferment?

A — When your local board receives evidence that you have enlisted, you will then be reclassified for Class II-S to Class I - D (member of a Reserve component).

Man Freed; Made Threats

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A 31-year-old Cleveland decorator who spent 10 months in jail for threatening the lives of three national figures was released after a federal jury Thursday after 40 minutes deliberation.

Ernest C. Ware could not post a $10,000 bond after he was charged with making threats Nov. 27 against the life of then-President Lyndon B. Johnson, President-elect Richard M. Nixon and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

After a jury of seven women and five men found him innocent, Ware said he was not bitter but "just happy at the verdict."

Ware was accused of making the threats during a telephone conversation with the FBI to inquire about the death early in 1968 of his brother in the Tennessee State Prison in Nashville.

Public Defender Edward F. Marek said Ware's brother was found bound, gagged, and strangled in a prison cell. Marek said Ware was distressed over his brother's death, under the influence of alcohol, and had no recollection of making the threats.

Rain Spreads Over Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Showers and thunderstorms spread over portions of the Pacific Coast, the north central states and the Midwest today.

Fair skies prevailed over the southwestern and northeastern sections of the nation.

Cold air movements developed into storms in the north central section and the Midwest, with fairly heavy thundershowers reported in some parts of the Midwest.

Tropical storm Kara, while hundreds of miles off the Florida coast, prompted the weather bureau to issue small craft warnings from the northeastern Florida coast to Cape Hatteras, N.C.

Temperatures in the early morning ranged from 33 at Butte, Mont., to 82 at the Corpus Christi Naval Air Station in Texas.

Trout grow large in New York State. The Conservation Department reports these as the largest ever authenticated for rod and reel angling to the State: Brook trout — 8 lbs. 8 oz.; Brown trout — 21 lbs. 5 oz.; Rainbow trout — 21 lbs.; Lake trout — 31 lbs.

Tingler Guilty; Death Sentence Passed By Judge

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The jury trying Richard Lee Tingler Jr. for first-degree murder found him guilty today without a recommendation for mercy.

Common Pleas Judge Henry L. Holden then sentenced him to the electric chair Jan. 26, 1970.

Tingler had been charged with four counts of first degree murder — two of murder while perpetrating a robbery, and two of pre-meditated murder in the slaying of two teen-age employees of a Lawson Milk Co. store on Columbus' South Side.

The jury of eight women and four men deliberated about eight hours Thursday before reaching for the night, then resumed deliberations at 9 a.m. today.

In addition to the murder charges, Tingler also was tried at the same time, and convicted, of robbery, and assault to kill another store employee.

Tingler, 28, was charged with four counts of first-degree murder in the execution-style slayings of Susan Pack, 18, and James Stevens, 14, both employees of a South Side dairy store, that was robbed Oct. 20, 1968.
